CUBA SECOND IN SPIRIT OF GAME

Use Terms in Ordinary Conversation and Play Good Ball.

WRITER IS OFFENDED

(By Victor Munoz, Sporting Editor of El Mundo of Habana.)

University, Va., March 21.—Why, the second baseball country of the world is not Japan; it is Cuba. Mr. McGraw assigned that position, the other day, to the Flowery kingdom, and, in so doing, threw the ball into the bleachers, because there is no other nation but this great one of yours to whom the island republic can bow in matters pertaining to the realm of baseball.

Not only are the Cuban teams superior, stronger than all of those whose efforts on the diamond Janan boasts, and Mr. McGraw eulogizes, but the greatest of all the American sports is rooted in the hearts of our people so deep that every minute of our lives in Habana we are mingling baseball phraseology in our conversation. And Spalding's does not edit its baseball guide but in two languages—English and Spanish.

Over there, in that little country that the distinguished manager of the Giants, in the effusiveness of the arrival home, when his hand was still aching with the sacred pain of the royal shaking, put on the baseball map, when a girl refuses a proposal from a young man, her friends used to say that she struck him "out." When a man succeeds in collecting an old bill it is said that he put in practice the "squeeze play."

It is very common in Habana, during a concert in the Prado, when a man raises his hat with great ceremony to pay homage to one of the beauties of the town, and she refuses to recognize him, to hear a voice among the crowd saying, "One strike."

Even those high in authority or old in years employ many times the phrase, "It is too long a fly" when somebody asks for something not feasible.

Among the cabmen in Habana when a passenger gives an address for a street very far from the center of the city, the rates over there being uniform, it is very frequent that the driver would say, "Please tell the horse that we are going to the ball park in order to give the poor thing some consolation."

If it were not for the fact that too many examples will tire the reader, I would present them, in favor of my contention, of the immense, undisputed popularity that baseball has among the people of Cuba, in all walks of life, the snow would liquefy in Charlottesville. This is some liquefying.

Baseball is the national sport in Cuba for all races, for all classes, in all the largest cities since 1880. No joke about that. You will see the kids, the young and even the mature men playing the game in the vacant lots, in the outskirts of the city, wherever there is space to mark first base with a cobble. Even the streets are not free from the embryo ball players, whose love for the great American game has been forgotten by the world famous leader of the ever (except in the world's series) conquering Giants, for whose baseball genius I hold the most ardent admiration.

It was only for baseball's sake that the Habana crowds collected in front of the bulletins of the newspapers last year, anxious to know the details of the important games between big league teams in the United States, wherein they do not have any other interest than the absolutely pure enthusiasm for your and our national pastime.

Be a Perfect Man

With No Back Pains—No Nervousness—No Loss of Ambition, But with Plenty of Life and Energy and the Vigor of Youth Restored.

To be strong and manly is the aim of every man, and yet how many we find who are wasting the vitality and strength which nature gives them. Instead of developing into the strong, vigorous, manly men that nature intended them to be, they find themselves broken down and despondent—no ambition to do anything. They struggle aimlessly along, sooner or later to become victims of dreaded disorders, their finer sensibilities blunted and their nerves shattered.

Is This the Way You Feel? Do you feel tired in the morning and easily exhausted? Is your back weak or lame? Do you have difficulty in fixing your thoughts? Is your memory failing? Are you losing ambition? Do you feel you are not the man you once were? Do you have hot flashes up and down the spine or sudden weak spells at the base of the brain, sudden spells like fright from no apparent cause? Are you very restless or sleepless at night? Are you very nervous and irritable, with a feeling that you want to be alone? Are you gloomy with a sense of some great oppression upon you? If so, then you need my treatment now and I want you to call or write today. Don't delay. You surely do not want to remain in this condition. Don't suffer longer. I cure others. I can cure you. Master your disease before it masters you.

My Fees Are Within Reach of the Workingman

My price is always reasonable. I will give the POOREST man a chance as well as the RICH, to receive a cure from me at SMALL COST. There is no man too poor to get my advice free.

I Cure to Stay Cured Varicose Veins, Blood Disorders, Skin Disorders, Bladder and Kidney Ailments, Piles, Fistula and all Special, Acute and Chronic Disorders of Men.

Free to Men A friendly heart-to-heart talk will COST you NOTHING. I have been lecturing on and treating disorders of men for many years. I have EXPERIENCE, that best of all teachers, the most thorough equipment and purest drugs that money can buy.

Honest Treatment I will use you honestly, treat you skillfully and cure you in the shortest possible time. I will positively guarantee to cure any case that I decide is curable or refund the fee. I know what I can do and have the courage of my opinion. I am willing to stake my reputation upon it.

Proofs Come and see me today, examine the living proofs that I have to offer, investigate my records as a doctor and as a man. It will cost you nothing and may mean a lifetime of health and happiness to you.

DON'T LET MONEY MATTERS OR MODESTY KEEP YOU FROM BEING CURED. CALL. I DO NOT "PATCH UP," I CURE TO STAY CURED. DO NOT DELAY. CALL OR WRITE TODAY. EVERYTHING CONFIDENTIAL.

TOURNAMENT WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Seven Hundred Attend First Military Congress at Concordia.

THE PRIZE WINNERS

More than seven hundred persons attended the military tournament held Friday night at the Concordia college gymnasium and in every particular the program was a great success, giving the public an opportunity to witness for the first time just what the cadets are doing aside from the regular routine of military instructions at the institution. The tournament was under the person direction of Captain George Eyraade, military instructor at the college.

The program opened promptly at 8 o'clock with a military review and a battalion assembly, and each number following was performed with precision and accuracy. Owing to the length of the program it would take a great deal of space to tell in detail about each one of the numbers, but especial mention must be given the winners of the wall scaling contest.

In this event a remarkable record was reached. A team representing the staff and band scaled a board wall ten feet high in eight and one-half seconds. Members of the team were Archibald Breitfeld, Otto Heinitz and Max Kunde.

Judges in the military events were Major C. F. Driesbach, Captain J. R. Bird and First Lieutenant Sunderland. The athletic contest judges were Messrs. Baude, Meinzen and Schiefer. The prize winners in the various contests follow:

Sergeants' drill—Herman Keinath, first; Herbert Mueller, second; Wm. Roesler, third.

Corporals' drill—Theodore Fuelling, first; Theodore Dorn, second; Walter Miller, third.

Privates' drill—Carl Strodel, first; Fran Lankenau, second; H. Mader, third.

Wall scaling—Team representing staff and band, composed of Archibald Breitfeld, Otto Heinitz and Max Kunde.

Equipment race—Henry Burandt, first; Carl Hendricks, second; Walter Bauer, third.

Obstacle race—Wm. Schoenow, first; Herbert Wacker, second; Walter Bauer, third.

Barrel race—Herman Schumacher, first; Frank Wittmer, second; Adolf Keh, third.

Three-legged race—Walter Miller and Walter Meyer, first; Herbert Mueller and Gerhard Kaul, second; Wm. Dau and Fred Schumacher, third.

Sack race—Martin Feltz, first; Frank Wittmer, second; Rupert Schroeder, third.

Tug-of-war—First prize, team from company C composed of Harry Fisher, Henry Camin, Arthur Bartling, Herman Schilf, Edwin Wilson, Walter Sturm, Theodore Dorn and Walter Vandre. Second prize, team from company B, composed of Wm. Dau, Oscar Linnemeyer, Wm. Rehm, Herman Nichols, Herman Schumacher, Fred Schumacher, Alfred Daschner and Philip Frack. Third prize, Company A represented by Wm. Schlueter, Walter Dorn, Herbert Levin, Wm. Roesner, Archibald Riess, Henry Nau, Richard Deffner and Harry Abram.

Relay race—First prize, Company A, represented by Wr. Schlueter, Walter Dorn, Walter Miller and E. Netzdorf. Second prize, team from staff and band, composed of John Sullivan, Ervin Umbach, Max Kunde and Otto Heinitz.

Company D was awarded the prize offered for the highest number of points and Frank Wittmer received a bath robe donated by the Shields Clothing company, for gaining the highest number of individual points.

Most automobile agents are absolutely convinced theirs is positively the best car. That makes it hard to decide.

But each year some manufacturer springs a VALUE SENSATION—that startles the automobile trade. The next year other makers follow. Thus automobile building has progressed with giant strides. It was so in 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913—and THIS YEAR.

Find out what 1914's VALUE SENSATION is! That's the BEST BUY OF THE YEAR! You lose money if you don't select that car.

Manufacturers this year point to the large, beautiful 120-inch wheel base new Auburn "40" as 1914's STARTLING value. It is equipped with electric self-cranking system, electric lights, deep, luxurious upholstery and every luxury and convenience the motor-wise owner wants—at the UNPARALLELED PRICE OF $1,490! Makers who next year will follow these ideas now offer similar features in their cars selling at $1,600 to $1,835.

The silent, stamina-imbued motor, the splendid mechanical perfection, the luxurious brillance of body finish that until this year were never offered at less than $2,000, are yours in the new Auburn AT $1,490!

BRITISH SECRETARY OF STATE FOR WAR RESIGNS

BUT ASQUITH REFUSES TO RELEASE COL. SEELY

Will Not Sacrifice His Lieutenant in Face of Uproar Over the Irish Situation

EXPLAINS ORDERS TO ARMY OFFICERS

London, March 25. Premier Asquith has refused to accept the resignation of Col. John Seely, secretary of state for war, submitted by the latter today in the course of the uproar over the Irish situation.

After the sympathetic reception in the house of commons of the secretary of war's explanation of his action regarding the army officers in Ireland, the premier decided that he would not sacrifice his lieutenant.

Had Nothing to Conceal.

The secretary for war declared to the house he had nothing to conceal and foreshadowing his impending resignation, said he thought in view of the information received by the government, was necessary to take certain steps protect the government depots. He d issued instructions for this purpose th the full authority of the cabinet. en. Paget came to London to discuss e methods of carrying out the movements of troops. Col Seely continued: it appears to the government and to en. Paget that although these movements were purely precautionary in character, a state of excitement might be caused which would result in commotion in all parts of Ireland. I therefore ook the necessary steps to support the movements in the event of their opposition by armed force."

An Honest Misapprehension.

"Then came a telegram from Sir Arthur Paget from which it appeared to the government that these officers had deliberately defied the lawful orders of Sir Arthur Paget and also his authority. But subsequently it appeared there had been a complete and honest misapprehension of the statement made by Gen. Paget at a meeting with his officers. These officers believed there was a plan to treat Ulster as an enemy's country and overwhelm her by a surprise attack. That belief, as we can well imagine, must have been fostered by wild rumors which were abroad. There wasn't a shadow of foundation for these rumors.

"The authorities knew that directly we moved troops these rumors would arise and that was the absolute justification for my action in accepting the suggestion of Gen. Paget that we should be prepared for a state of disorder following these necessary movements."

Giving an account of his interviews with Gen. Gough and other officers Col. Seely said: "These officers explained that they had no idea that they were only going to be asked to support the civil power in the event of disorder and Gen. Gough expressed himself as ready to go to Belfast."

The Paget Statement.

Turning to the letter read by Andrew Bonar Law in the house of commons attributing to Gen. Paget the words "Ulster will be in a blaze by Saturday," Col. Seely said that Gen. Paget had told him what he really said was "There might be a blaze and certainly will be a blaze in the press."

Proceeding to relate his interviews with King George Col. Seely said he had merely laid the facts of the great army crisis before his majesty and added: "Any suggestion that the king has taken any initiative of any kind in this matter is absolutely without foundation in the broadest sense. His majesty took no initiative of any kind."

As though to clinch the matter, Col. Seely repeated this statement with emphasis.

SURRENDERS HIS PORTFOLIO.

Col. Seely Tenders Resignation from British Cabinet.

London, March 25.—The resignation of Colonel John Seely, secretary of state for war, followed quickly after the publication today of the "white papers" giving details of the crisis in the British army, whose officers refused to participate in active operations against the inhabitants of Ulster, who had prepared to offer armed resistance to the introduction of home rule.

TOO MUCH YEAR AGO; NOT ENOUGH TODAY

One year ago today Lakeside, Nebraska and Bloomingdale, three separate parts of Fort Wayne, were submerged by flood waters and thousands of people in the city were compelled to leave their inundated homes. Today, owing to a continued lack of rain, hundreds of cisterns in all parts of the city have gone dry and the country in general is clamoring for rain. Weather Forecaster Palmer predicts rain tonight followed by a slight drop in temperature.

CALL CHANCE OF STRIKE REMOTE

Both Coal Operators and Miners Are Anxious to Avoid Break.

SEEKING A NEW PLAN

Chicago, March 25.—Members of the policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America met today in an attempt to outline a plan for a settlement of the wage dispute between the soft coal miners and operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The joint wage conference between the miners and operators adjourned yesterday when no settlement could be reached after a week of discussion. Although the existing wage scale expires April 1 both miners and the operators announced that the possibility of a strike was remote.

Demands for Ohio miners were said to have been the cause of disagreement in the conference. The last Ohio legislature passed a law providing for the mine run system of payment. Under the new law the Ohio miners wanted the wage scale changed to a screen run basis and a six per cent increase in pay. The operators objected to this clause.

Another joint conference may be called if the policy committee succeeds in drafting an agreement which meets the demands of the Ohio contingent.

Talk That Brought Storm of Criticism Down on Diplomat's Head.

Washington, March 25. Ambassador Walter Page's celebrated London speech in which he was accredited with having interpreted the Monroe doctrine as meaning the United States preferred that no European government should gain more land in the new world, and as having made certain references to the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption, was forwarded to the senate today by Secretary Bryan in response to Senator Chamberlain's resolution calling for an explanation.

Mr. Page's speech, some twenty-five hundred words in length, was furnished to the senate in full. The portion relating to the Panama canal was as follows:

"I will not say that we constructed the Panama canal even for you. For I am speaking with great frankness and not with diplomatic indirection. We built it for reasons of our own. But I will say that it adds to the pleasure of building that great work that you will profit by it. You will profit by it for you have the greatest carrying trade. I can say a similar thing about the recent lowering of our tariff. We did not lower it in order to please you.

DEPEW QUIET AS MILITIA RULES

But Spirit of Unrest is Intensified Among the Strikers.

GUARD WILL REMAIN

Depew, N. Y., March 25. With the entire town under martial law, quiet prevailed today among the strikers of the Gould Coupler works. The streets of the village were patrolled all night by squads of militia.

The day shift of workmen was accompanied from Buffalo to the plant by a battalion of guardsmen. Just about day-break today four shots were fired from a residence through the Erie railroad gate of the coupler plant. This point was guarded by special deputies but no one was injured and the shots were not returned.

The announcement that the company will refuse to reinstate any of the strikers under any conditions and the threatened eviction of the men from the company houses have added to the spirit of unrest and the militia will be kept on guard for an indefinite period.

RUSHING TO FILE FORMAL NOTICES

Progressives Are Planning to Make Nominations by Petition.

The number of candidates to be balloted for nomination at the county primaries April 3 will be so large that the capacity of the voting machines will be strained. Today is the last date on which candidates could file notices of their candidacy and announcement was made at noon at the office of County Clerk William E. Gerding that more than fifty candidates are seeking nomination for county offices on the democratic ticket alone. Mr. Gerding states, however, that election commissioners will be able to get all of the names on the machines.

The candidates were given until 4 o'clock this afternoon to file their notices, and at 2 o'clock seventy candi-

SAYS SPINSTER LIVES LONGEST

Insurance Figure Expert Gives Some Unusual Statistics.

UNABLE TO EXPLAIN

New York, March 25.—The spinster lives longer than the married and the woman who holds an endowment insurance policy lives longer than the woman who takes out a straight life policy. With these facts substantiated by statistics gathered by experts in the employment of forty-three insurance companies were brought out last night by Arthur Hunter, an actuary, in an address of the monthly meeting of the Life Underwriters' association of New York. Mr. Hunter also said the business woman lives longer than the married man, but he did not attempt to explain why, except to declare that figures proved his statement to be a fact. Nor did he explain why the married woman survives the matron. He did tell, however, why the woman who takes out an endowment policy lives longer than the woman who has to die to win. "The endowment woman just gets up her spirit and determines to live until the policy matures," he said. "The other woman sighs and says: 'Oh, what's the use.'"

Mr. Hunter said there were more fatal accidents in this country than elsewhere because of the American "I'll take a chance spirit."

The mortality rate among engineers and firemen is eight times that of men in other callings, he said, "and among policemen about 40 per cent higher. With policemen it is on the increase."

Crops Out in Senate When Jones Reads a Letter Scoring Wilson.

DEMOCRATS FAIL TO THWART MOVE

Battle Promises to Be the Most Spirited Contest in Recent Years.

Washington, March 25. The Panama tolls fight cropped out in the senate today when Senator Jones, one of those opposing repeal of the exemption had read a letter from William B. Larkin, of No. 20 Highland street, Boston, assailing President Wilson's contention and saying "the president should be recalled to the classic shades of Princeton instead of being permitted to continue to bulldoze accredited representatives of the American people in congress."

Senator Hoke Smith, Senator Lewis and other democratic leaders failed by various parliamentary tactics to prevent the reading of the letter.

Senator Thomas, democrat, interrupted the reading of similar letters to ask

Pierre, S. D., March 25.—Senator Coe I. Crawford, the republican majority faction candidate, was defeated by nearly 10,000 majority by Congressman Charles P. Burke, the minority candidate, who was nominated for United States senator in yesterday's state wide primary election, according to returns compiled early today.

Straggling reports from the country district increased the lead obtained by Congressman Burke in the large towns of the state and his campaign manager placed his lead over Senator Crawford at more than 10,000. Burke polled a heavy vote in the western part of the

Col. Seely in his valedictory to the house of commons denied that King George had taken any initiative action in the question. "The suggestion is absolutely without foundation in the broadest sense. His majesty took no initiative of any kind."

Had Astounded Country.

The correspondence between Col. Seely and the chief officers in Ireland had astounded the country and in the opinion of seasoned politicians demanded one of two courses—the cashiering of the secretary for war or the resignation of the entire cabinet. The first course was decided on at a protracted cabinet council early this morning.

Later in the day in the house of commons Premier Asquith, in reply to a question, made it clear that the instructions given to Gen. Sir Arthur Paget before his interview with the officers under him, had emanated directly from the war office and were not submitted to the prime minister by the secretary of war.

Buzzed With Excitement.

The house of commons buzzed with excitement and was crowded to its utmost capacity when Lord Charles Beresford opened the attack on the government by demanding information as to the naval movements in connection with the stuation in Ulster. "Was the battle squadron ordered to steam at full speed from Spanish waters to the Irish coast and ordered to embark field guns?" he was asked.

Amid ministerial cheers and derisive laughter from the unionists, Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, admitted that the battle squadron had been ordered to Lamlash so as to be in proximity to the coast of Ireland in case of serious disturbance arising. When it was clear that the military precautionary movements had been carried out without opposition, it was decided that this movement of the fleet could be delayed until the Easter leave period of the crews was over."

Cyclone of Questions.

The statement of the first lord was immediately followed by a cyclone of questions. A unionist member asked if Mr. Churchill expected that "this precautionary movement of troops would lead to fighting?"

In a moment the first lord flared up. "I repudiate the hellish suggestion," he shouted.

When the consequent uproar had subsided the speaker reprimanded Mr. Churchill, saying that such an expression should not have been used.

The first lord regretfully withdrew it and the storm passed off as quickly as it had arisen.

Gave Written Guarantee.

Documents made public today disclose officially the fact that the British government gave officers in Ireland a written guarantee that they would not use the army to crush Ulster's political opposition to the home rule bill.

The correspondence, however, points out that the government retains its right to use the army to maintain law and order.

The orders issued by the war office in respect to the duties of the army in Ireland, chiefly in connection with the protection of government stores, arms and ammunition are given very completely. The correspondence, however, omits the verbal communication made by General Sir Arthur Paget to the officers at the Curragh camp, which led to the resignations and which the government argues was the result of a "misunderstanding."

Quotes Gen. Paget.

That the version of General Paget's communication read by Andre Bonar Law, leader of the opposition in the house of commons on Monday, was substantially correct, seems clearly indicated. Mr. Law on that occasion read a letter in which General Paget stated that "active operations were to begin against Ulster and that it was expected the country would be in a blaze by Saturday."

The Irish commander-in-chief wrote that he was in close communication with the war office and had received instructions from headquarters to notify his officers that those of them domiciled in Ulster would be allowed to disappear and be afterward reinstated. They must, however, give their word of honor not to fight for Ulster.

In the published correspondence Brig. Gen. Hubert Gough underlines phrases such as "active operations," when asking for further information, and it appears evident that he was quoting the remarks of General Paget.

Again Before Parliament

The mutiny of a section of the officers of the British regular army in Ireland, when they believed they were to be ordered to fight the Ulstermen, was again before parliament today. The correspondence between the war office and the army officers in Ireland, which led to the recent wholesale resignations and reinstatements was made public in the shape of a "white paper" or official communication to the houses of parliament. It can be seen from this correspondence that the war office was informed early in December of the possibility of resignations of officers in case the Ulster situation came to a crisis. In consequence of this information Col. John Seely, the secretary of state for war, interviewed the general officers in command and explained to them that an officer of the British army was compelled to obey orders to shoot "only in case the order was a reasonable one under the circumstances."

The secretary for war told them that no one from a general down to a private was expected to use more force than was required to maintain order and the safety of life and property. He continued: "If, therefore, officers and men of the British army have been led to believe that there is a possibility that they might be called upon to take outrageous action, for instance to massacre a demonstration of Orangemen who are causing no danger to the lives of their neighbors—bad as would be the effects on discipline in the army, nevertheless it is true that they are in fact and in law justified in a refusal to obey.

"There never has been and is not now any intention, however, of giving outrageous and illegal orders to the troops.

"The law will be respected and must be obeyed. What must now be faced is the possibility of action being required by troops in supporting the civil power in protecting lives and property when the police is unable to hold its own.

"Attempts have been made to dissuade the troops from obeying lawful orders given to them when acting in support of the civil power. These attempts have amounted to the claim that officers and men of the army could pick and choose between lawful and reasonable orders, saying they would obey in one case and not in another."

Continuing that there had not been a single case of lack of discipline in this respect in the British army, Col. Seely says:

"At the same time, as views and statements uttered in the press and elsewhere made my position clear, I informed the general officers that I would hold each of them individually responsible to see that there was no conduct in their commands subversive to discipline. I told them they could let it be clearly understood that any such conduct would be dealt with under the king's regulations.

"If any army officer should tender his resignation I told the generals that they should ask for his reasons and if he indicated that he desired to choose which order he would obey I would submit to the king that the officer should be removed from the army.

Letter to Gen. Paget.

This document was followed by a letter dated March 14 from the war office to Gen. Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-chief in Ireland, in which Sir Arthur was informed: "In consequence of reports received by the government that attempts may be made in various parts of Ireland by evil-disposed persons to obtain possession of arms and ammunition and other government stores, it is considered advisable that you should at once take special precautions for guarding the depots and other places where arms and stores are kept as you may think advisable.

"It appears that Armagh, Omagh, Carrick Fergus and Enniskillen are insufficiently guarded, being specially liable to attack."

Orders also were given to the officers in command of barracks where arms and ammunition were stored or located that they would be held responsible for the safety of that property and that such places never should be left unguarded. It is pointed out that this order referred to the whole of Ireland.

General Paget telegraphed to the war office on March 20 that all the officers of the fifth royal Irish Lancers, stationed in Dublin, had resigned with the exception of two. He said he feared that the same conditions prevailed among the officers of the Sixteenth Queens Lancers at the Curragh and that the men would refuse to move.

That same evening, General Paget telegraphed to the war office that the brigadier general and seventeen officers of the third cavalry brigade at the Curragh "prefer to accept dismissal if they are ordered to the north.

Should Refuse Resignations.

The war office replied to Gen. Paget: "You are authorized to suspend from duty any senior officers who have tendered their resignations or in any other manner have disputed your authority. The resignations of all officers should be refused."

The war office also said that other officers were being sent to relief Brig. Gen. Hubert Gough, commander of the third cavalry brigade and the commanding officers of the Fifth and the Sixteenth Lancers who were ordered to proceed to London.

Brig. Gen. Gough in reporting the feeling in his brigade, as the result of a communication from the war office conveyed to him verbally by General Sir Arthur Paget said:

"The officers of my brigade are unanimous in the opinion that further information is essential before they should be called upon at such short notice to take decisions so vitally affecting their whole future and especially that a clear definition should be given of the terms 'duty as orderly' and 'active operations' in Ulster.

"If such duty consists of the maintenance of order and preservation of property, all the officers including myself are prepared to carry out that duty. If however, the duty involves the initiation of active military operations against Ulster the following officers would respectfully and under protest prefer to resign."

TOLLS FIGHT IS UP AGAIN

Mr. Jones' opinion of the president's motives in urging repeal.

"I believe the president to be acting honestly and in accordance with his best judgment," said Senator Jones. "I am simply reading these letters to show the feeling and indignation among the ordinary people of the country."

Senator Thomas protested against the reading of letters impugning the motives of the president. He declared senators should make such charges directly.

Attack on Carnegie.

If Andrew Carnegie, who continually asserts the cause of Great Britain, were the citizen of any other nation he would be charged with treason, declared Senator Chamberlain today in the course of the Panama tolls debate. "He has never hesitated to spend his millions in endeavoring to inculcate a reciprocal feeling for Great Britain in the minds of the people of the United States."

Mr. Chamberlain's attack on Mr. Carnegie came as the climax to an hour of hot argument during which Senator Jones, who also opposed a repeal of the tolls exemption had read, under protest, several letters attacking the contention of President Wilson. The debate was cut off when the subject went over tomorrow under parliamentary procedure.

Thomas Criticizes Jones.

Senator Thomas criticized Senator Jones as detracting from the dignity of the senate by reading letters that almost charged the president with treason. Senator Jones responded he was not criticizing the president, but believed his correspondence had grasped the idea that the people and congress were entitled to know why congress should repeal free tolls.

"Should foreign relations justify the course, I am sure congress will support the president irrespective of party, but it is entitled to know the reason on which it acts," replied Senator Jones.

Senator Thornton contended that the Larkin letter was improper and should not have been received by the senate.

The incident of the letters ended with Senator Chamberlain taking up his resolution to repeal the provision of the river and harbor bill of 1884, which forbid the levying of tolls on inland waterways. He repeated his charge that the "insidious influences" behind the Panama repeal were the Canadian Pacific and other trans-continental railroads, but he hastened to add that he did not mean to intimate that the president was actuated by those influences. He referred to the president as a "thoroughly patriotic gentleman who believes in whatever he does and that he is doing it for the best interests of the country."

Contest Will Be Spirited.

Final preparations for the actual opening of the fight for the repeal of the tolls exemption provision of the Panama canal act, were taken today by leaders of the contending factions in the house. According to agreement, the issue will be formally presented at noon tomorrow and, under a special rule voted by the rules committee, for submission to the house today, debate will be limited to fifteen hours.

Democrats, republicans and progressives, aligned on both sides of the controversy, were agreed that the contest would be the most spirited of any staged in congress in recent years. Although the repeal advocates reiterated their predictions of success for the Sims repeal bill by a large majority, opponents of the measure scouted the idea of a one-sided fight and even expressed doubt of its passage.

Chairman Henry, of the rules committee, was ready today to submit the Sims bill together with the special rule regulating time for debate to the house. So tight had the lines been drawn by the leaders that it was apparent a heated contest over the adoption of the committee's rule was inevitable. It was pointed out by several members of the committee that a vote on the adoption of the rule while showing to a degree the feeling of the house on the tolls issue, could not be accepted as an unfailing indication of the vote on the adoption of the Sims bill, as a number of those who oppose the repeal are said to have decided not to object to the acceptance of the rule.

Today's business was confined principally to consideration of a number of bills of minor importance pending on the calendar Wednesday schedule.

company at their meeting today, considered and approved the annual report for 1913, the results of which have already appeared in the annual report of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. This report showed that an increase of $4,600,000 in operating and maintenance expenses, which includes the extraordinary outlays for replacements and repairs to track, bridges and other facilities destroyed or damaged by the floods of March, 1913, so that, after paying its fixed charges and appropriations to sinking and other reserve funds, there remained only $659064 as applicable for dividends. The company, however, paid its regular five per cent. dividends on the preferred and common stocks, aggregating $3,232,542, but in order to meet the same it had to utilize in large part its surplus income from previous years.

"In view of the decline in the gross and net revenues of the company in the latter part of 1913 and so far in the present year and as there are still large expenditures to be made in the current year for the flood damage of 1913, the directors deemed it prudent to reduce the dividend and therefore declared one per cent. on the preferred and 3-4 of 1 per cent. on the common stock for this first quarter of the fiscal year, or at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum for the preferred and 3 per cent. for the common, as against five per cent. declared on each class of stock in recent years."

The directors of the Pennsylvania company, which operates the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, also met today but transacted only routine business, according to the company's announcement.

At the yearly organization meeting of the directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, President Rea and all other officials were re-elected.

CAUSES SLUMP IN STOCKS.

New York, March 25.—The reduction of dividends upon the common and preferred stock of Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis wasn't expected in Wall street and the common stock slumped violently. It opened today at 83 and on the news of the dividend cut dropped several points at a time to 70. The preferred stock, which is very inactive, wasn't disturbed.

The bulk of the loss in dividends falls upon the Pennsylvania railroad, which owns $23,390,000 of the $45,000,000 common stock and $22,462,000 of the $30,000,000 preferred. Although no change in the dividend rate was looked for it was generally known that the earnings of the Pennsylvania's western lines had fallen off severely the last year. This was responsible for a recent decline in the common stock of Pittsburg, C. C. & St. Louis, which last month sold 21 points above the low mark reached today. The stock of the Pennsylvania railroad broke nearly 2 points.

WIFE DESERTER GOES ON GRILL

George Sweet is Scored by Judge Eggeman Who Threatens Prison.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

George Sweet will remember for quite awhile the interview he had today at the bar of the circuit court with Judge Eggeman. Sweet, a young man charged with deserting his girl wife, was shown to have been a most flagrant offender and it is believed Judge Eggeman means to give him a sentence of one to three years in the Indiana reformatory at Evansville, when Sweet is brought in on Saturday, April 4, to be adjudged. Judge Eggeman gave the delinquent young husband a terrible grilling under which the youth writhed. It was established that he had left Fort Wayne to go to Monroeville, first writing a letter to his wife, then in a delicate condition, that she would see him no more. He was arrested, brought back and tried in the city court and given a chance by Judge Mungovan. His continued delinquency got him sent over to the circuit court and was for a time in jail. From the jail he wrote a letter to his wife begging her not to be too hard upon him in her testimony. Recently Mrs. Sweet became a mother and the husband has not been near her or contributed anything to the support of herself and child. Prosecutor Hilgeman put Sweet through a hot examination.

Receiver for Hotel.

In the circuit court today Judge Eggeman appointed the Tri-State Loan & Trust company to act as receiver for the Lake Shore hotel at 908-10 Cass street, the appointment following a suit filed by J. F. Horstman against Edwin C. and Laura E. Holdder to reform and foreclose a mortgage for the appointment of a receiver and for a judgment for $1,300. The Holdders have had much trouble and a divorce suit is now pending. Mrs Holdder recently had her husband in the city court on an assault charge, but he was acquitted. The plaintiff in the receivership suit has a chattel mortgage on the furnishings of the hotel.

Flitted in Half a Year.

George Fuller did not stick around even to see his wife through the ordeal or to be present to greet his child when it was born, according to a complaint for divorce filed in the superior court by Eva Fuller. They were married January 20, 1913, and she says he deserted her June 25, following. Besides this he beat her, made no reasonable provision for her support or for the support of the child and spent not only the money he earned himself but what his wife could earn, using it to buy drink, she charges. The custody of the child, now five weeks old, is asked by the mother.

Is Keeping Something Back.

In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court by Joseph Stults against Louise Stults he says she treated him with cruelty and inhumanity in a manner he prefers not to detail in his complaint. They were wed in January, 1889, and separated in October, 1912.

Falsely Accuses Her.

Ila Lung has filed divorce proceedings in the superior court against Guy Lung, a saloonkeeper at 1414 Calhoun street. They were married in June last year, and separated the early part of this month. She says he has falsely accused her of relations with other men, has beat her, cursed her and torn her clothes off. She wants back her maiden name of Ila Heffeltinger, asks alimony and a restraining order to keep Dan Lung, his father, from disposing of the saloon proceeds.

Notes of the Courts.

Grace Kappel has brought suit in the superior court against Valentine Gephart to have a judgment revived. She demands $106.

The will of the late Louise Bandau has been filed for probate. Her property is left to her children and grandchildren.

In the superior court Judge Yaple has granted Charles A. Weidner a divorce from Elizabeth Weidner.

In the case of Edward White against William Underhill on a lease, the superior court jury found for the defendant.

The will of the late John P. Tinkham was probated today. All his property is left to the widow during her life time, then to be divided equally among six daughters. A codicil leaves $500 in trust for a grandson until he reaches majority.

AWARD ROAD CONTRACTS.

Contracts for about nine miles of stone roads to cost a total of over $45,000 were awarded by the county commissioners today. The Cromer road on the Marion-Pleasant township line, length 12,613 feet, was awarded to Clark & Simmons on their bid of $12,131.45. The engineer's estimate was $15,939.01. Marion C. Cromer will be superintendent of construction. Road No. 1, Springfield township, length 2.85 miles, and road No. 2, same township, length 3.8 miles, were awarded to John H. Zimmerman for $13,155.90 and $17,900, respectively. The estimates were for No. 1, $13,767.40 and for No. 2, $18,204.60. E. C. Reichelderfer will be superintendent of construction on both.

BIDS FOR ROAD MACHINERY.

The board of commissioners will tomorrow morning receive bids to furnish the county with a road roller, a road sacrifier and a sprinkling wagon for use of the county road officials. Bids will be opened at 10 o'clock.

VALUABLE HORSE STOLEN.

Last night there was stolen from the stable of Arthur Harter, a farmer residing in Scipio township, near the DeKalb county line, a chestnut-sorrel gelding seventeen hands high. The animal is valued at $300. Sheriff Gladieux's deputies and members of the Allen County Protective association have traced the horse into DeKalb county.

BATTLE RAGES ABOUT TORREON

Fighting is in Progress on Outskirts of City, Says Dispatch.

DETAILS ARE ABSENT

Juarez, Mexico, March 25. "Fighting is in progress this morning in the outskirts of Torreon." This was the text of a message from the south given out officially here today. There were no details and official prophecy was readjusted to the effect that it might be several days before the federal stronghold could be taken.

What the exact situation in the Torreon district might be today, was only a matter of speculation. The first rumors that sifted into Juarez last night and today were variously interpreted according to the personal views of the individuals. Officers at rebel quarters were silent about the fact that no press dispatches came through and also about the statement at Mexico City that the rebels had been repulsed in an attack on Torreon.

The last newspaper telegram last night stated that the rebels had possession of the railroad house, which is on the outskirts of Gomez Palacio. A personal telegram from Gen. Benevides to his father said "All is well with us."

REBEL WOUNDED COMING.

Federals Put Up Strong Resistance at Gomez Palacio.

Bermejillo, Mex., March 25.—(By courier to El Paso) Rebel wounded from Gomez Palacio and the lesser recent fights in the vicinity are being brought north in large numbers and it is officially added that the federals put up an unexpectedly strong resistance at Gomez Palacio.

A train load of injured soldiers started north from Brittingham Junction today. They were to be deposited at all water tank stations along the railroad where hospitals had been established, the report says.

General Villa has the largest medical corps ever attached to a rebel army in Mexico but they are exhausted by the necessity of working night and day.

REBELS MEET REPULSE.

El Paso, Tex., March 25.—Miguel Diebold, of the Mexican federal consular service, said today that he had been officially informed that the rebels were repulsed with heavy loss at Torreon and that some of them were driven back twenty miles.

"It is very significant that Juarez is without news and I regard its confirmation of my dispatch," said Senor Diebold.

WASHINGTON HEARS IT.

Washington, March 25.—The Mexican embassy has received the following cablegram from the City of Mexico, dated last night: "The rebels were repulsed today in an attempt to reach Torreon. General Velasco well prepared for attack."

NEW CURB FOR RACE GAMBLING

Lea Has Bill to Prevent the Transmission of Bets or Odds.

DAY IN WASHINGTON

Washington, March 25.—Sending of racing bets or odds from foreign countries into the United States or from state to state would be prohibited under a bill introduced today by Senator Lea, of Tennessee. He characterized his measure as designed to prevent the nullification of state anti-gambling laws. It would empower the postmaster general to enforce the law.

Nominations of Robert Lansing, of New York, to be counsellor for the state department; Cone Johnson, of Texas, to be solicitor for the department, and John L. Desaulles, of Pennsylvania, to be minister to Uruguay, were favorably reported today by the state foreign relations committee.

President Wilson called on Senator Stone, of Missouri, chairman of the foreign relations committee, today at the senator's apartments. Chairman Stone has been very ill for several weeks and now gets about only on crutches.

Secretary Bryan again asked the senate foreign relations committee today to favor the new peace treaty with Denmark carrying an unlimited arbitration provision. Questions of national honor would be arbitrated, and there is some opposition. The committee took no action. The committee voted to extend the general arbitration treaty with Costa Rica, which is soon to expire.

CASPER RAU DIES AT AGE OF NINETY

He Organized First Loan Association in Fort Wayne.

THE OTHER DEATHS

Casper Rau, aged ninety years, said to have organized the first building and loan association in Fort Wayne, died at 11 o'clock Tuesday evening at his home, 1819 Fairfield avenue. His death followed a prolonged illness due to infirmities of age. He was widely known and had been a resident of Fort Wayne since 1860.

He was born in Stuttgart, Germany, January 30, 1824, and came to America at the age of twenty-four years, locating first in Reading, Pa. Thirteen years later he came to Fort Wayne and in 1870 organized the Fort Wayne Building and Loan association.

CASPER RAU.

Before coming to this country he was married to Miss Christina Hummel, who, with two children, died twenty-eight years ago. Later he married Mrs. Rose Rapp, and surviving besides the widow he leaves the following children: Charles, William and Miss Emma Rau, Mrs. William J. Kettler and Mrs. H. J. Miller, all of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Henry W. Lampert, of Chicago. He also leaves eleven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Private funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Rev. Knatz officiating. Interment at Lindenwood.

Friends may view the remains from 6 o'clock this evening until Friday noon. Acquaintances are kindly asked to omit flowers.

DUNLAP.

Mrs. Mary Dunlap, aged fifty-two years died this morning at St. Joseph's hospital after a prolonged illness from complications. She had been a patient at the hospital since March 20. Mrs. Bert Dennis is a daughter.

She also leaves two other children, Miss Dagmar Dunlap, of this city, and Heber Dunlap, of Rochester, Ind. There are two grandchildren, two brothers and one sister surviving.

Funeral services Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the Klaehn & Melching chapel. The remains will be shipped to South Whitley Friday noon for burial.

GLADIEUX.

Celestian Gladieux, aged seventy-two years, a life long resident of Zulu, Ind., died suddenly this morning at his home at that place. His death was due to heart disease. Mr. Gladieux had apparently been in his usual health and was active about his home Tuesday. He arose this morning, and after stating that he was going to the kitchen to build a fire, dropped over on the floor, dying before medical aid could be summoned.

Mr. Gladieux was an uncle of Sheriff A. C. Gladieux and was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Lawrence Haffner, of this city.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Barrett—Funeral services for Mrs. Harriett Barrett will be held Thursday morning at 7:45 o'clock from St. Joseph's hospital chapel. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

Wulf—Funeral services for Christian Wulf will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Seiler, 825 Eliza street, Rev. C. O. Shirey officiating. Interment at Lindenwood.

Buford—Funeral services for Edward Buford will be held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock, S. W. Stirk circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., will be in charge of the services at Klaehn & Melching's chapel, with Rev. T. P. Potts officiating. Interment at Lindenwood.

The Turner ladies will give a pedro party Friday afternoon at the society's hall on West Superior street.

"CASCARETS" THE BEST LAXATIVE

If constipated, bilious, headachy, Stomach sour—Clean up tonight!

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Adv.

"HIND SIGHT"

GERMAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

"I wish I had started a bank account years ago," said a small merchant.

"Ten years ago I paid a bill in cash. Two years later I had to pay the same bill again for I could not find the receipt. Had I had a bank account at the time I would have paid the bill with a check and then I would have had the check to show the bill had been paid."

Of course a man's hind sight is better than his foresight, but why not convert the hind sight of others into foresight for yourself?

This bank welcomes small accounts, for such today are the big accounts tomorrow

MEN

Cured to Stay Cured

By up-to-date methods, without pain, inconvenience or loss of time. Weakness or Lost Vitality, Blood Poison, Varicose Veins, Hydrocele, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Piles, Fistula, Contracted Diseases and ailments of men.

For years I have treated MEN'S DISEASES ONLY. I can cure you if anyone can. Do not let money matters detain you. Come at once. COME TODAY.

Consultation and Examination Free

Weakness, Lost Vitality

My combined treatment for these troubles, so common among those who have become weak and worn out is remarkably good. No one believes how quickly it benefits until they have taken it. It overcomes weakness, nervousness, pain in back, lack of energy, ambition and strength—it's just the treatment I have found so effective in treating such cases. BE A MAN ONCE MORE.

Blood Poison, Old Sores, Lupus, Epithelial Growths

And all Skin diseases are permanently and forever cured by Dr. Moreland's Pacific Blood-Cell Remedies. They act directly on the Blood Cells, eliminate the poison and restore the internal organs to their normal conditions. I am particularly anxious to hear from men who have been treated by other physicians without receiving any beneficial results or a permanent cure.

Varicose Veins Cured

I cure this affliction without pain or detention from business. Soreness, swelling and congestion of the dilated veins vanish quickly. Losses are checked. A healthy circulation of blood is re-established, the atrophied parts are developed and the old-time feeling of warmth, vigor and vitality speedily returns. Avoid dangerous operations. I can give you the quickest, safest and surest cure known to medical science.

Contracted Diseases

IN CONTRACTED DISEASES my patients are thoroughly cured in less time than any other less thorough forms of treatment require in producing doubtful results. I don't use strong, painful, injurious injections that do great harm. My method cures without pain; gives immediate benefits and a lasting cure.

Kidney and Bladder Diseases Quickly Cured.

They are often caused by early excesses, alcoholic liquors and severe sickness, the usual symptoms being chilly and feverish spells, worn out feeling, puffiness under the eyes, drains, smarting, burning and swelling. My long study and extensive practice in treating Kidney diseases insures success in all cases not past the curative stage. I determine the condition by analysis of urine, and the many severe kidney troubles I have cured, after they had been given up by other doctors, give me great confidence in my method.

GIVING THE IDLE ARMY THE RUN.

At Sacramento, capital of California, the citizenry played a most entertaining little game recently, called "Giving the idle army the run." The above pictures shows one of the plays in the game. The home team was the citizenry of Sacramento. The visiting team was the army of unemployed.

The idle army arranged themselves on a vacant lot and pitched tents and boiled soup and asked to be assisted "On to Washington," where they could plead for much needed legislation that would be beneficial to unorganized labor.

And the citizens of Sacramento, catching the spirit of the game immediately gathered in a string about seven blocks long to "assist" the idle army. One of the rules of the game was that the citizens should be armed with blue ribbon badges, pick handles, bludgeons, blunderbuses of various size and caliber and a choice assortment of brickbats and stones. Another rule was that the army of unemployed should be unarmed—that all missiles, etc., should be taken away from them before the game started.

Then, the citizens' side said "ready!" The game was started by turning the fire hose on the defenseless unemployed.

As the game progressed the interest deepened. The citizens' side closed in with their clubs and walloped right and left. It was a bit like ten pins. And so the game progressed until the idle army was forced across the M-Street bridge out of the city and into the adjoining county. Some people called the game the "Bloody Battle of the M-Street Bridge."

Some of the players on the side of the army of unemployed objected to the rules of the game. The man in the picture above was one, but being in the minority, his vote didn't count, and encouraged by the liberal application of a couple of pick handles, he was finally persuaded back into the game and was given the run along with the rest of the army.

MADE STAKE ON ALASKAN TRAILS

Mrs. Mary E. Hart Has Won Much Wealth as a Gold Miner

NOW READY TO QUIT

Tacoma, Wash., March 25.—Mrs. Mary E. Hart, sister-in-law of Lieut. Gov. Louis F. Hart, of Washington, is a woman who has "made good" as an Alaska miner.

MRS. MARY E. HART.

"I am not a millionaire, but am comfortably situated and have enough to keep me nicely as long as I live," she says.

Mrs. Hart went to Alaska in 1900 and got out on the beach and shoveled sand into a "Long Tom" rocker with the rest of the prospectors.

"That is where I got my start in mining and dug my first gold," said Mrs. Hart.

Now she has numerous holdings in the Jupiter-Mars mine, the Chaeuyemere Lone Star and other paying propositions.

She leaves soon for Alaska for a flying trip through the country and may go into the Shushanna diggings and get hold of some more gold land.

Mrs. Hart is not only a gold miner, but a literary woman. In fact, she is known best for her literary and club work. She started the old Pacific Monthly, the first literary magazine on the coast, at Los Angeles, and has officiated as editorial and special writer for several publications, being a life member of the Pacific Coast Women's Press association and a member of the National Editorial association.

For several years she has been spending three months on the Pacific as lecturer for the Pacific Steamship company. She is president of the Alaska Cruise club, made up of travelers, and is going back to Alaska now to gather costumes and line up some natives to bring to the 1915 exposition.

Take Soda for Acid Stomach or Indigestion--Try It

Indigestion, says a noted authority, is not caused by a lack of digestive juices, but by an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which promotes food fermentation, thus retarding digestion. Then our meals sour in the stomach and bowels like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, then we get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest; we eructate food, belch gas and have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us that to instantly neutralize these stomach acids and stop food fermentation we must get a package of 10 grain Sodagen tablets at any pharmacy and take one tablet any time followed by a tumbler of water, which immediately settles the stomach; absorbs the gases and sweetens the entire digestive system.

He states that men and women who can trace their disordered stomachs and indigestion to acidity should not hesitate to take this harmless antacid at any time, as it is simply a compound of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. S. P.—Adv.

WET BY REDUCED VOTE.

Drys Meet Defeat in Option Election at Richmond.

Richmond, Ind., March 25.—The wets won in the local option election here yesterday by a majority of 1,330 votes. This majority is 530 less than the total in the wet victory at the last similar election.

Twenty-two of the thirty precincts in the city were carried by the wets and six of the eight wards were lost by the dry forces. The temperance workers carried the Seventh ward, in which Earlham college is located, by 68 majority, and the Sixth ward, the fashionable district, by 114 majority.

While the result of the election was conceded early in the day the majority was a surprise to the workers in both camps. The drys had expected a much smaller majority, while the wet advocates had declared that they believed their majority would be between 500 and 1,000.

The vote is the largest ever polled at a city election here. The election passed with but a few minor disturbances and only one arrest was made. For several hours early in the day dry workers marched to the voting places, accompanied by a band.

Hunger the Best Sauce.

There is no sauce equal to natural hunger. If you would relish your meals like a hungry boy, take Chamberlain's Tablets. They improve the digestion and create hunger. H. D. Parmenter, Cridersville, Ohio, writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for stomach trouble, biliousness and constipation off and on for the past ten years and have never seen their equal yet." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

HERE'S GROUP PICTURE OF LARGEST FAMILY IN FRANCE AND THE MOTHER WHO WANTS MEDAL FOR RAISING IT.

Madame Malet, who holds the baby in this big family group, is asking the president of the French republic for a medal of the legion of honor. The family group itself furnishes the grounds for her application. This picture is one of mother, father and 22 children. Madame Malet has brought up the largest family of children in France—and the happiest, she says. The youngest child is 14 months, the oldest 24 years.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Matthew 23:1-14.

1 Then spake Jesus to the multitudue, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat:

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not.

4 For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments.

6 And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8 But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11 But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant.

12 And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

14 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye revour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

Control of the Family Purse.

The happiest households we know are those in which the family purse is common and no one draws upon it without accounting to the other members. The common expenses are laid aside first, then a percentage of the income for the common protection, and what is left is drawn upon to meet arising needs. The husband doesn't hold the purse, nor the wife, nor the children, but one acts as treasurer and trustee. There is mutual consideration and mutual trust.

A few years ago a beautiful heiress to a $25,000,000 American fortune married a British lord. Of their life together we know nothing. Report credits him with being a good fellow. His wife has borne him a fine son and heir. But it has just come out in a court proceeding that before the wedding the heiress tied her fortune up in a trust so that when the lord became her husband he could touch neither the principal nor the income.

This was done, we are told, at his suggestion. He married for a wife, not for a fortune. Yet think how anamalous the arrangement is. If he was fit to be trusted as a husband, then surely he was fit to be trusted as joint partner in the control of the money; or if not in the one relation, then how could he be trusted implicitly in the other?

Of course so much unearned money was well calculated to make mischief under any arrangement—it could hardly fail to be a barrier to real happiness. But under the plan adopted, it must be doubly a nuisance, continually reminding her of a money barrier to complete wifely trust, and equally admonishing him that he is a husband on sufferance. Lucky the young man and maiden who start their life partnership on even terms, with no reservations, prepared to take fortune as it comes. Come poverty, come wealth, it can be shared and shared alike.

Senator Thomas, of Colorado, has just assured the equal suffragists that they will be given a new hearing in congress. Welcome as the announcement is to the suffrage leaders, it is not so important, after all, for the one certain feature of the movement is that it can be depended upon to enforce a hearing whenever it sets itself about to get it. The cause is becoming entirely too strong to be denied.

If you had any intention of seeking nomination for any Allen county office at the primary this spring, but have neglected to file official declaration of your candidacy with the county clerk, you might as well bury your cherished ambitions. The time limit expires today, but you may seek solace in the comforting reflection that the supply of candidates is abundantly ample without your own hat having been tossed into the ring.

The suspicion voiced at Los Angeles that the entire country is in the grasp of a gigantic master plumbers' trust will not greatly disturb the courtly gentlemen of that guild. They have long been accustomed to smile blandly in the face of more vitriolic allegations than that. It is a part of the business to do so.

Job is reliably reputed to have had his troubles, but then he never was obliged to rustle up suitable timber for either a republican or a progressive ticket in Allen county.

Though not quite so certain by some 530 votes as it was on a previous occasion, the city of Richmond is still convinced that it wants the saloon, having given the wets a majority of 1,339 at the local option election Tuesday.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR FIRE PREVENTION.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Fire Marshal Longley's annual report points out that more than 65 per cent. of all fires reported are the results of gross carelessness. "The inspection department's business is to reduce the enormous fire waste and loss in Indiana by the proper safeguarding of fire hazards," says the report. "This work is solely one of fire prevention, not of fire fighting, and requires a large amount of educational work. A great deal has been accomplished in securing the improvement of conditions that constitute fire hazards."

American states and cities are awakening to the necessity for more attention to fire prevention. As a country the United States is the best equipped in all the world for fighting fires. Its municipal departments excel those of any other country. But for all of the splendor of equipment and investment, the United States has the highest per capita fire loss.

Gradually Americans are coming to realize that, however enterprising it is to be able to fight any fire, it is infinitely better to prevent that fire. Statistics and the aggregate experience of the country prove in how great a proportion of cases fires could have been prevented with just a little more attention to inflamable materials or just a little more care of the ways in which buildings are erected. The campaign for prevention of fires has taken form in most localities and states within the last five years. Today it is an independent movement, gathering such force that in another five years, or in another decade at most, there will be a tangible result to display in the way of diminished losses.

Fire prevention is not a matter of sentiment. It is a matter of social and material economy. Fire is wasteful: it is devastating. It means the destruction of the fruits of labor. Insurance is but an indifferent safeguard, when it is considered that however high the insurance return, there is, in consequence of each fire, the call for a duplication of labor—for the doing over again what has been done before.

The Indiana fire marshal's office, starting as a new venture with a great deal of preliminary work to accomplish before it could proceed to the larger purpose of its creation, has succeeded well in bringing the fire prevention problem to the public's mind. The whole question, as Mr. Longley's report makes clear, is one of education making precaution against fire, both as to the disposition of fire-causing materials and as to the observance of preventive rules, a matter of second nature with the whole populace. Americans have looked too much to the fire department as a protecting symbol: it is better that they look now to a habit of life and of carefulness which will make the fire department less necessary.

PRESS ON THE SENATE AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Wisest Thing.

Buffalo Courier: "It should be obvious that the wisest thing for the advocates of equality of suffrage would be to turn their attention to the states as the proper source of suffrage."

Fact That Stands Out.

Philadelphia Press: "The fact that stands out as incontestable is that the necessary two-thirds majority of the upper house of congress has not yet been convinced of the wisdom of granting votes to women by federal enactment."

"Matter for States."

Hartford Times: "There seems to be reason in the contention that the extension of the franchise should be a matter for decision by the individual states rather than by the central government."

The People's Wish.

Kansas City Star: "If the people don't want woman suffrage, or if they do want it, they should be able to state their wish in law more quickly than they are now enabled to state it."

The Northern States.

Boston Post: "Good progress is being made by the equal suffragists in the separate states. One by one the northern commonwealths are falling into line."

Experiment a Failure.

New York World: "It was only in the case of the blacks freed from slavery by the civil war that the nation undertook to regulate the use of the ballot. The experiment has been a failure wherever state sentiment and state laws have not supported it."

Public Sentiment.

Pittsburg Dispatch: "Whatever progress the suffragists can hope to make must be gained, as the ten states already won have been, by the fostering of public sentiment in the states."

TWO WIDOWS GIRDLE GLOBE TO STUDY MEN; "ALL NICE," THEY SAY.

Mrs. B. V. Kisam (left) and Mrs. M. H. Abbott, New York widows, who are touring the world to study men.

San Francisco, March 25.—It is more interesting to call on an active governor than an inactive volcano.

Men of all nationalities are nice, but some are nicer than others.

Japanese fortune tellers use a microscope, but even then they can not tell a white woman's age.

With such fragments of wisdom, gathered in a five years' tour of the world, Mrs. B. V. Kisam and Mrs. M. H. Abbott, two widows of New York, recently arrived here from Japan and the Hawaiian islands.

"We have been traveling all over the world to study men and see nature," said Mrs. Kisam, who has the knack of turning her observations into epigrammatic phrases.

"We traveled alone and trusted ourselves in the hands of all kinds of men, and not once were we molested or insulted.

"In Japan we made a trip to the most interior sections with Japanese coolies and jinricksha men and returned safely without a disagreeable experience.

"In Hawaii we had an invitation to see Governor Pinkham and an offer to climb Mt. Haleakala, an extinct volcano, the same day. Well, interviewing a live governor beats visiting an extinct volcano any time, so we chose the governor.

"In Japan," continued Mrs. Kisam, "a fortune-teller examined my whole neck with a microscope, but could not tell my age."

The globe-girdling widows are en route to Fallon, Nev., where they are going to live amongst and study the American cowboys.

"Nevada is the only place in the United States where the cowboy is not extinct," said Mrs. Abbott.

ENDS WITHOUT AN AGREEMENT

Chicago Conference of Miners and Operators is Fruitless.

BIG STRIKE IMPENDS

Chicago, March 25.—Peace negotiations between the bituminous miners and coal operators of the central competitive district of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania came to an abrupt termination yesterday. As a result a strike of 300,000 mine workers is threatened.

A threat to strike is always made at the first break in the negotiations and steps looking to a settlement of the dispute are still considered possible. If the operators and employes fail to get together in another conference each side may appeal to the federal board of arbitration.

The wage scale conferences have been held at the Great Northern hotel. At 2 in the afternoon the conference adjourned sine die. Each side left the meeting firm in the determination not to yield another step in the other's favor.

Strand on Ohio Issue.

The demands of the Ohio contingent of the miners constituted the rock upon which the conference stranded. The difficulty grew out of the provisions of the newly adopted Ohio mining law. In that state the miners are paid on a mine run basis. Under the law the men want the scale changed to a screen run basis and a 6 per cent. increase added to their pay.

Up to a few days ago things looked bright for an early settlement of the entire dispute and arrangements were made to sign up a two years' agreement. Then consideration of the Ohio scale was reached. Both sides struck an unexpected snag. Representatives of the miners insisted they would not sign the agreement unless it provided for the screen run basis in Ohio.

Much oratory was expended, but the conferees drifted wider apart. A subcommittee was appointed and meetings were held, but the smaller bodies also failed to reach an agreement.

When the subcommittee reported failure to agree the conference took an adjournment until yesterday.

Each Side Decides to Stand Pat.

Meantime each side held separate meetings. Both decided to stand pat. When the miners and operators met again it was only to tell each other they had agreed to disagree. Neither side would offer a compromise. Some of the operators tried to have another subcommittee appointed to thrash out the question once more, but the proposition met with small favor. The sine die adjournment followed.

The present agreement expires on March 31. Officials of the United Mine Workers of America said a strike will be called April 1 unless an agreement is reached before that time. There always is a suspension of work in the coal mines on April 1. On that day the men celebrate the establishment of the eight hour day in the coal mining industry.

The operators said an agreement is impossible under the terms proposed by the men.

Society

An informal dancing party at the Country club will be enjoyed this evening by the young boys and girls who are entertaining and being entertained in honor of Miss Kate and Clark Crocker, of San Francisco, who are visiting Kenneth Noble. Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Noble will give the party tonight.

* * *

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max B. Fisher, and Mr. Harold Rehrer, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Rehrer, will take place tomorrow in St. Augustine, Fla., at the Hotel Ponce de Leon. Both bride and groom are well known young people of this city, who enjoy the esteem and confidence of many friends of their own acquaintance as well as those of the circles in business and social life in which their parents move. Miss Fisher is a cultured young woman of much refinement and charm of manner and tastes. Socially she is prominent and her interest as a member of the Junior Orphans' Home club and in other branches of philanthropic endeavor has been manifested in many ways. Mr. Rehrer is connected with the Becker Paper company. The wedding will be a quiet one as the bride's mother has not been in good health for some time, but will be attended by immediate relatives of the bride, including her sister, Miss Margaret Fisher, who comes from a private school in Washington for the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Fisher, of this city, are already in St. Augustine for the wedding. The bride and groom will travel in the south for a few weeks and on their return home will be at home for a while with Mr. and Mrs. Max Fisher, at 530 West Berry street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hecht, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clem Fox for a few days, have returned to Chicago.

Misses Dessie and Jessie Chester have gone to Buffalo, N. Y., for a visit with relatives.

Miss Grace Waters and her nephew, Master Junior Mead, have come home from Petersboro, Canada, where they had been for several months with relatives.

Miss Carrie Knyoth, Miss Mary Morris and Frank Knyoth have returned from a visit in New Haven with relatives and friends.

Miss Anna Brueggeman, of Washington boulevard east, is going to South Whitley tomorrow for a week's visit with relatives and friends.

Miss Mary Evans, of Toledo, O., who has been visiting Mrs. E. A. Hoffman for a number of days, is now the guest of Mrs. E. H. Olds.

Misses Marguerite and Marian Ingham have come home from Milton college, Wisconsin, to spend the spring holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ingham.

Miss Marie Centlivre has invited a few friends to a luncheon she will give on Saturday at the English tearoom in honor of Clark Crocker, of San Francisco, who is visiting Kenneth Noble.

Miss Grace Stuart Strathmore has returned from Kirksville, Mo., where she is taking a course in osteopathy, to spend the spring vacation with her parents.

Miss Dorothy White, a student at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., is coming home tomorrow for the spring holidays which she will spend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. White.

Mrs. Russel Hawkins, of Portland, Ore., who has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Smyser, has gone to Chicago to meet her husband, who will return here with her for a few days' visit. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins expect to return to Oregon for the summer.

A student's recital of pupils of the European School of Music given in the parlors of the school last night was heard by an interested and pleased audience of relatives and friends. The pupils did good work and all showed evidence of well directed teaching along the most approved methods in technic and musical understanding. Of the most talented appearing on the program were Marie Burg, Virginia Steinman, Ralph Doctor and Leslie Jacobs, piano pupils, and Christine Pepe, Clara Lange, Dorothy Cox, Emmet Spindler and Charles Thornburg, of Auburn, violin pupils. Other pupils who did pleasing work were Marian Bickel, Gertrude Smith, Ruth Galatin, Laura Gerding, Geraldine Miller, Lester Frech, Dorothy Grice, Tom Brennan, Ruth Logue, Lamie Waterson.

Miss Jessie Armstrong, of West Berry street, gave a surprise party last evening in honor of Vern McCullough, who is leaving this city after several years' residence to live with his parents, near Kendallville, who now need him. Mr. McCullough called at Miss Armstrong's home and found there the gathering of his friends. A merry time was spent though there were many expressions of regret over the necessity of Mr. McCullough's near departure. The rooms were beautifully decorated with roses and the lights were hooded in rose shades. Refreshments were served. The guests included the Misses Eleanor Dilling, Elsie Knapp, Inez Chilcote, Beatrice McCrea, Beulah McCrea, Bonetta Kanaga, Mrs. E. P. Otto, Elva McGuire, Norma Wiltshire, Lela Fetters, Miss Ehrmann, Ellen Havens, Sylvia Mowrey, Nell Armstrong, and Messrs. Louis Dilling, Ralph Fairs, David W. Vos, Cornell C. Rahdert—Rosebrock.

Miss Sophia Rosebrock, who has been making her home for twelve years with Mr. and Mrs. James McKay, of Lake avenue, and Mr. Christian Rahdert, a highly respected farmer of Allen county, were quietly married on Tuesday evening at the McKay home by Rev. Paul Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Rahdert went directly to their own home after the wedding.

HAPPIEST WOMAN IN WASHINGTON IS WIFE OF DESAULLES.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN L. DE SAULLES.

Washington, March 25.—Mrs. John L. De Saulles says she is the happiest woman in Washington for she is going back to the land of her people, South America. Her husband, John L. De Saulles, the famous Yale quarterback of a dozen years ago, has been nominated by President Wilson to be minister to Uruguay. The couple will leave very shortly for the new post.

Mrs. De Saulles is the daughter of a rich Chilean. She spent five years in Chili and says she knows Uruguay to be a lovely country in which to live.

The appointment is considered as a recognition by the president of a close friendship established during the Wilson campaign.

AT THE TEMPLE

The Temple bill which closes its run this evening has been playing to capacity houses since it opened, and has been doing it on sheer merit. Headed by what is generally conceded to be the greatest musical act in vaudeville, "The Six Musical Cuttys," the bill from top to bottom and side to side is an excellent one.

"The Girl Rancher" Coming.

Opening tomorrow afternoon the Temple's week-end bill will be featured by a little western playlet by Lucile Mulhall and company of six people. The skit is called "The Girl Rancher," and during the action six horses and Texas steer occupy the stage. A team of German comedians, known as the Otto Brothers, are another feature while a new idea in comedy drama will be found in the sketch, "The Redemption of Mame," featuring that wonderful little child actress Nell Burt. "The Clubman and the Suffragette," a clean bit of keen satire, and Lavine and Inman's novelty "Sally's Visit," will complete the bill.

A LOVELY MATERIAL.

A famous Parisian dressmaker is responsible for the introduction of a mysteriously beautiful material suitable for dinner and reception gowns. Lovely beyond description, it is a shot gauze which is hand painted and then appliqued with glittering beads and tiny paillettes, while motifs of the finest black lace are introduced here and there. Oriental in style are the painted designs.

Chinese figures or flowers treated in Japanese style, for instance, are extremely effective. The spaces between are filled in with bead and silk embroideries, and the black lace motifs enhance, if possible, the bewildering sea of color and glitter. Yet, in spite of the craze for bright colors, some of the new evening gowns are positive Whistler symphonies. Smoke gray and silver are very popular, and lovely models are to be seen in chalk white charmeuse veiled in silver gray chiffon, graced with silver fringes and embroideries.

Doubtless the vogue for white hair is not without its influence in the present success of these delicate tones, for it is, of course, impossible to wear brightly colored hues with powdered hair, the effect being ordinary and artificial to a surprising degree.

Concert Master Local Orchestra

PERCY L NUSSBAUM.

At a recent business meeting of the Fort Wayne Symphony orchestra which is to give its second concert next Monday evening, the orchestra elected Percy L. Nussbaum as concert master in place of Wilbur Pickett, who has resigned on account of poor health. Mr. Nussbaum is one of the leading violinists in this part of the state and will appear in his new capacity at the symphony concert on Monday. The soloists of the evening will be Emmeran Stoeber, cellist, of Chicago, who has taken the place of Franz Wagner with the Gaithe Trio. Mr. Stoeber was heard in concert in this city four years ago and his work at that time won high praise.

Mr. Nussbaum is widely known throughout the state. He is a native of Indiana and after some years of study went abroad to Germany, later to Geneva, Switzerland, and then returned to Germany. Mr. Nussbaum studied with Hans Sitt, Friederich Hermann, Gustav Shreck, Carl Halir and other well known instructors of European conservatories, including two years in Rome with Ettore Pinelli. Mr. Nussbaum possesses ample technique and his playing is characterized by intellectual and artistic comprehension and thoroughness.

HELPFUL HINTS.

Apply glycerine to a scald directly the accident occurs and cover it up with strips of rag soaked in glycerine.

When making sago pudding, allow three dessert spoonfuls for each pint of milk; let all soak two hours before cooking.

Allow the children to eat almonds. One dozen blanched almonds are equal to about one pound of round steak in nutritive value.

When the sick room is being ventilated, a screen should be placed in front of the window to prevent danger of a draught.

When you wash your door panels of lace or net applique to fit the door glass, tack them on the door to dry and they will keep their shape.

Tarnished silver can be brightened if placed for a short time in boiling water in which a fair-sized lump of washing soda has been dissolved.

A Confirmation Gift For $12.00--An Elgin

When the boys and girls are old enough to be confirmed they are old enough to carry a watch, and a good one at that.

Such is our $12.00 Elgin Watch; seven jewels and in a gold filled hunting case, guaranteed for 20 long years. Ladies' or gentlemen's.

This watch is backed by the famous Elgin reputation as well as by our own.

HAS A FEW DOGS AND PONIES LEFT

But Little Else Remains of Young Belmont's $140,000.

FATHER CUT HIM OFF

New York, March 25. After young Raymond Belmont married Ethel Lorraine, who had passed as an actress, but had never been on the stage, his father, August Belmont, cut off his allowance, according to testimony given by the capitalist as a witness for his son today in the supreme court, where the young man is defending a separation suit brought by his wife.

August Belmont testified as to his supervision over the estate and property of his son since the boy was born. The youth has a few dogs and ponies left, Mr. Belmont declared, but after over due drafts and other incidentals are deducted from the estate there remains today but $14,000 in his son's name, estimating the securities on the present market value. Mr. Belmont said his son's net income was about $600 annually. When the defendant was 21 years old in May, 1909, his estate was worth more than $140,000, the father testified. When Raymond married, in 1912, Mr. Belmont added, he was cut off from his $5,000 annual allowance, and has since given up his position, at a salary of $75 a month in the banking house of August Belmont & Co.

Counsel for the plaintiff objected to the admission of Mr. Belmont's testimony, claiming it did not tell "all the story." Justice Greenbaum decided to accept the testimony as partial evidence and to give counsel for young Mrs. Belmont the right to examine books of August Belmont & Co., that are in evidence and to cross examine the capitalist subsequently. The trial will be resumed Friday.

SAYS TANGO IS NERVE CURE.

New Dance Lessens Number of Nervous Cases, Says Dr. Peterson.

New York, March 25.—The tango and maxixe are curing that most common American complaint—nerves—according to Dr. Frederick Peterson who upheld his theory in an address yesterday at the Colony club.

"I have noticed a marked decrease in the number of nervous cases among the people who are dancing this year," he said. "It is because new dances appeal to older people as well as to the young that its benefits have become so noticeable, I suppose."

Miss Richard Crothers spoke on "standardizing the new dances and declared that it didn't take away all the fun from them by putting them into stereotyped forms.

Among three hundred women present were many members of the Parents' league, an association of mothers and fathers whose object it is to simplify life for the children.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

George Arliss in "Disraeli."

In writing a play about Disraeli, that wonderful personage whose eccentric personality within the memory of most living men, dominated world politics, the ordinary dramatist would have chosen the stormy days when that brilliant young statesman was making a career for himself, culminating in the stirring events that followed his challenge to O'Connell's son. Louis N. Parker, whose "Disraeli" Mr. George Arliss will present at the Majestic tomorrow evening for the first time here, has chosen a later period as more suitable to his purpose. He shows us the immortal Dizzy at the zenith of his career. Woven into the action of the piece is the diplomatic battle for the control of the Suez canal, which Disraeli conducted and won for England singlehanded.

The production is elaborate scenically and the costumes of the period the early seventies lends an attractive charm.

Mr. Arliss' company includes such well known players as Violet Heming, Margaret Arliss, Lilla Campbell, Charles Harbury, Oscar Adye, Arthur Eldred, Henry Carvill and Dudley Digges.

Ethel Barrymore Returning in "Tante."

So emphatic has been Miss Ethel Barrymore's success in "Tante," in which comedy she is to return here at the Majestic theater, for one performance only, Friday evening, and so surely has the actress with the most artistic interpretation of her career, placed herself firmly among the foremost of American actresses, that it is extremely likely that following her present tour throughout the principal American cities she will be seen in the same role in London. Mr. C. Haddon Chambers, the author of "Tante," who has been in this country superintending not only the production of "Tante," but of John Drew's revival of his earlier play, "The Tyranny of Tears," had several conferences with Mr. Charles Frohman with that end in view and the production will doubtless be made at once at Mr. Frohman's London playhouse.

AT THE EMPRESS

Tomorrow, Thursday afternoon, souvenirs will again be distributed among the women who attend the Empress matinee. These handsome pieces of silverware are all of the same handsome pattern that has been given away since the Empress first inaugurated its souvenior giving and they are still in the same demand as before? The Empress will have teaspoons for those who want them, while coupon holders will be able to secure knives, forks, etc. Friday night the original "Country Store" idea will again be offered, this time with a list of gifts that include useful, as well as humorous gifts. In the lot will be a live white baby and all the way through the Scotch will predominate in the store. There will be an order for a strictly tailored suit of clothes given to some man. This week's show is an enjoyable one, the Scotch Revue by the Eleven Kinkaid Kilties being an attraction of especial merit.

"Postum for Mine"

Many a man and woman with coffee troubles has found that Postum is a sure and pleasant way back to health.

A doctor writes:

"I have been using Postum for the last seven or eight years, and think it has had a good deal to do with my looking younger than 55 years of age.

"I recommend it to all patients, and those who have been using it have only praises for its taste and its good effects on their nervous systems; like me they have given up tea and coffee altogether.'

Postum is a pure food-drink made of wheat and a small proportion of molasses—roasted and skillfully blended. It is absolutely free from the coffee drugs, caffeine and tannin—common causes of heart, stomach, liver, kidney and nerve disturbance.

Some people marvel at the benefits from leaving off coffee and using Postum, but there is nothing marvelous about it—only common sense.

Postum now comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be boiled. 15c and 25c pkgs.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder, requires no boiling. A spoonful stirred in a cup of hot water makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

DO YOU WEAR TIN STOCKINGS, CLAY LINEN OR PAPER SHOES?

Shoes of glucose and epsom salts, stockings of tin, underlinen composed largely of clay, and finally an "all-wool" skirt made of cotton loaded with starch—that's an accurate description of what milady is actually wearing!

She may have paid for the HIGHEST quality when she bought her garments, but shoddy is probably what she received so much is indicated by the facts brought out in the investigation of fabric adulterations now being carried on by a committee of congress. Stringent "pure fabric" legislation, to correspond to pure food laws, is being urgently advocated by Representative Francis O. Lindquist, of Michigan, to correct these abuses.

"ALL WOOL" SERGE SKIRT HALF COTTON
LINEN LOADED WITH CLAY
SILK STOCKINGS LOADED WITH TIN
COUNTER OF LEATHER SHAVINGS AND GLUE
HEEL OF WOOD AND IMITATION LEATHER
TOE CAP OF RAGS AND STRAW

Posed especially for The Sentinel to show women readers how their shoes and clothing are adulterated.

"There are no commercial products marketed with greater fraud," he says, "than the various forms of clothing." And he proposes that it be made compulsory to label goods in such a way that the purchaser will know exactly what substances he is buying.

Today he buys shoes which he trusts are made of leather. Really they are very often made largely of leatherite, hideite or strawboard, which are compounds of rags, paper and leather shavings, compressed and glued. These "leather" shoes soak up water like a blotter. Yet the purchaser pays high quality prices for them.

Likewise linen is adulterated with cotton and "loaded" with clay, while silks are "weighted" by immersion in an iron bath from which they absorb quantities of tin crystals.

Lindquist has on exhibition for the benefit of congress a piece of goods which he bought in New York as pure silk. Analyzed, it is found to contain only 65 per cent. of silk.

Woman's Heart Big Enough for Mother-Love and Art-Love, Says Diva.

MME. JULIA CLAUSSEN AND HER DAUGHTERS, BOJAN AND SONJA.

Chicago, March 25.—When fate put the question of "art or babies" to Mme. Julia Claussen, Swedish grand opera prima donna, she promptly answered, "Both." She has two winsome little daughters and the happiest of homes in her native city, Stockholm.

"Art-love and mother-love are God-given gifts," says Mme. Claussen. "A true woman will sacrifice neither. She'll find place in her heart for both."

While Mme. Claussen is flitting across the country this spring with the Chicago Grand Opera company, her children are in charge of the nuns of the Sacred Heart convent in Chicago, where the diva placed them on her arrival in this country last fall.

GROCERS STOP SELLING BEER

Fifteen Retailers Cease Handling Liquor and Are Pleased.

SAY NEVER AGAIN

According to Deputy Revenue Collector L. P. Sharp, fifteen retail grocery establishments in Fort Wayne have ceased selling beer, surrendering the government licenses they held. Mr. Sharp says they had no city, state or county licenses and were ordered by the police to stop handling the amber fluid.

The enforcement of the law, however, was met gladly by the grocers, Mr. Sharp says, and several of the grocerymen say that they would not handle beer again as a portion of their stock even if they were allowed to do so without any license.

Collector C. M. Blue, a deputy in the local office of the revenue department, says that the increased demand for beer, always coming at this season of the year, will greatly swell the revenue receipts in the district this month.

NEW EQUIPMENT READY NEXT FALL

Capacity of City Lighting Plant Will Be Equal to Every Demand.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

The new additional equipment for the city lighting and power plant for which contracts were awarded last night by the board of works, will all be installed early the coming fall and the plant will then be equal to every possible demand upon it for several years to come. The Fort Wayne Electric works, successful bidder for furnishing the 3,000-kilowatt generator, exciter set and switchboard, has agreed to make delivery within four months. The Alberger Pump and Condenser company, of New York, will be prepared to make delivery within ten weeks.

The board of works will at once have plans prepared for the addition to the power house and that building will be hurried along so that the rearrangements can be made at once and the condenser installed as soon as it is delivered. This will make it possible to quickly install the big turbine generator and other electrical equipment as soon as it is delivered. The new equipment will be in operation probably two months earlier than Mayor Hosey and the board had originally considered possible.

The winning of the big award by the Fort Wayne Electric works was specially pleasing to Mayor Hosey, the board of works and other city officials. When the bids were read it was at once apparent that the big Fort Wayne concern was the strongest contender. Its bid is regarded as distinctly advantageous to the city considered on its merits alone. The figures submitted by the Electric works for the turbo-generator and other electrical equipment were $33,985. The Alberger company's bid on the condenser was $11,902, making the total $45,885.

Other bids on the condenser were: Westinghouse company, $11,595; Worthington company, $12,539, and the Wheeler company, $14,500. The contract was given to the Alberger company because its condensers are already in use at the local plant and are highly regarded.

The total for the equipment is about $10,000 lower than had been originally figured upon by the city officials and the whole of the enlargements, including building and rearrangements will not exceed $65,000, almost $10,000 lower than the estimates of Engineer H. P. Moran, who prepared the plans and specifications for the city.

Plans for the addition to the power house will be drawn as soon as possible and contract for construction let at an early day.

WORK OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Would Like to Have Board of Safety Ask for Pulmotor.

The city council would like to have the board of safety ask the council for an appropriation with which to purchase a pulmotor to be made part of the equipment of the police patrol wagon. The matter was presented by Councilman Mills last night and was warmly supported by Councilmen Rogge and Offenloch. The death of Lester Ebreiter by asphyxiation due to gas fumes in a bath room and the failure to get the pulmotor at Hope hospital into service in an attempt to resuscitate him was the occasion for bringing forward the matter. A resolution on the subject was referred to the committee on health.

Councilman Hartman presented a resolution urging the police department to enforce the speed laws of the city.

A resolution was introduced instructing the city attorney to learn if the city has an easement across the Nickel Plate tracks at Canal street. There is a purpose to carry the thoroughfare under the tracks.

There was a petition for extending the South Wayne avenue paving to Rudisill boulevard and for extending the street car line a square south of Rudisill.

Bradley brothers were granted time to present reasons for making changes in the sign ordinance and were finally directed to take up the matter with the city attorney.

Ordinances were passed naming the new street south of the Wabash right-of-way, from Wabash avenue to Lumbard street, Molitor street, and the new street between Delaware and Forest avenue, from Bayer avenue to Kentucky avenue, Schnorr street. Ordinances ratifying the contracts between the board of works and the Fort Wayne Electric works for the city's meter and transformer supply during the year; ratifying the contract between the board and the United States Cast Iron Pipe company for 300 tons of pipe and ratifying the franchise of the Fort Wayne Electric works to construct a spur track to its new building were sent to the committee on contracts and franchises.

BOARD LOOKING AT STREETS.

Thoroughfares That People Want Opened Are Inspected.

The board of works and city engineer today went over the city making an examination of streets that property owners have asked to have opened and extended. Lexington avenue, on the far south side was gone over and a lot that the city must purchase to accommodate the opening was tentatively appraised. The purchase of this lot will open the street through from Fairfield avenue to Calhoun street.

The board also inspected Spring street and Johnson streets that are to be opened for extension.

SIDEWALK MATTER SETTLED.

Controversy on St. Joe Boulevard is at an End.

The controversy over the widening of St. Joe boulevard from Lake avenue north and the construction of sidewalks along the east side of the drive has been brought to a settlement by the board of works and with one or two exceptions the affected property owners are now satisfied. There remains no doubt that matters will be brought early to a head so that the improvements designed for that thoroughfare can be put under way. The board will have a meeting with the property owners very soon and official action will be undertaken.

AGAIN URGE AIR BRAKES.

J. A. Lechler, J. J. Perrey and Persa R. Bell were a committee from the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor that waited on Mayor Hosey last evening at the city hall and asked in behalf of their organization that the ordinances requiring street cars to be equipped with air-brakes be enforced. The mayor will confer with the board of safety on the matter Friday night.

BIDS UNDER ADVISEMENT.

The board of works and Secretary John Wessel of the city lighting department, have under consideration the bids for furnishing and installing in the lighting department, the system of accounts required by the Indiana utilities commission.

CLERK M'CARTHY AT HIS DESK.

Clerk Dennis J. McCarthy was at his desk in the office of the board of safety today for the first time in three weeks. He has been improved in health by his sojourn at the Kneipp sanitarium in Rome City.

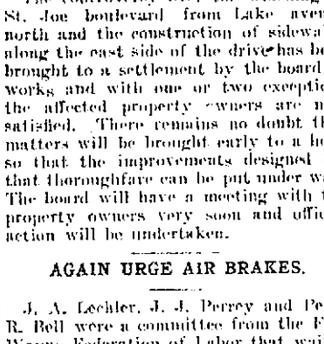
Man Who Tried to Save Paris Editor



Paris, March 25.—Paul Bourget, the poet, was the last man to see Gaston Calmette, victim of Mme. Caillaux's pistol, alive. "Do not see the woman," Bourget warned the Figaro editor. Calmette was more chivalrous than cautious and admitted the woman to his office. A moment later he was dead.

HERE'E WHAT MR. PAGE SAID

It was for purposes that we considered economically sound for ourselves.

"Nevertheless it adds to the pleasure of doing that to reflect that thereby we should have more trade with you. Concerning the recent message of the president, I take it upon myself on my own responsibility to say this. He delivered that message not to please you, but to express the true sentiment and self respect of the American nation. As I interpret his was the voice of the people. Nevertheless it adds to the pleasure of hearing that voice to know that it does please you."

Regarding Monroe Doctrine.

The portion referring to the Monroe doctrine follows: "May I put in another parenthesis also on my own account, and correct an impression that a part of your press seems to have about the attitude of the United States government concerning the investment of your colossal earnings in states of central America that have volcanic tendencies? I sometimes read that the United States is entering upon a policy to discourage foreign investments there. That is untrue. I think that some events are happening there that have discouraged them somewhat, but I hope that they cannot be charged to the United States.

"There is a policy forming in the minds of our government and our people which is not new that would discourage such investments or such concessions as would carry with them the control of the government of any of those states and only such, for so far as the United States is concerned you know heartily we have welcomed your investments in our land and still welcome them and always will. You may be assured that it is none of the business of the United States to put any let or hindrance upon any legitimate investments of yours anywhere in the world and they most heartily welcome your investments in any part of America, provided only you do not make them so that you may possibly take the country with them.

"The Monroe doctrine meant this, when it was first formulated, that the United States would object to any European governments taking more land in the new world. In those days the only way that a foreign government could gain land was literally to go and take it. Now we have more refined methods of exploitation and there are other ways to take it. That is the only protest that the United States has ever whispered. You will, I am sure, understand why the United States prefers that no land in the new world should be acquired in these subtle ways. Would you do us the kindness clearly to understand that, and possibly to correct the misimpression that has gone aboard?"

Secretary Bryan transmitted the copy of Ambassador Page's speech without any comment whatever and it was read in full to the senate and referred to the foreign relations committee without debate.

MAY LOSE EYESIGHT.

W. W. Rose, of Roanoke, who was struck in the eye with a piece of coal yesterday morning is at the Hope hospital still suffering from the injury and it is feared by those in attendance that he will lose his eyesight.

The accident occurred while he was picking coal at the Troy laundry and a piece of coal flew up, striking him across both eyes. He had no money to immediately employ a physician and the neglect of treatment may result in the loss of both of his eyes.

Foster's opening all day and evening tomorrow. Will be closed from 6 to 7:30 p. m. in order to enable the help to get their evening meal.

IN THE CHURCHES

NOTED LECTURER COMING.

"A Joy Ride on the Water Wagon" Will Be Theme of Lecture by Dr. Howard.

Dr. Clinton B. Howard, of Rochester, New York, a noted and well known lecturer all over the country, will deliver an address at the First M. E. church Thursday evening of this week on the subject, "A Joy Ride on the Water Wagon."

Many Fort Wayne people remember Dr. Howard's last appearance in this city a few years ago when he gave a lecture at the Majestic theater when he drew such a large crowd that people had to be turned away. He is always greeted with large audiences wherever he makes his appearance.

British Soldiers Can Shave 'Em Now

London, March 25.—The girlish upper lip of Eddie, prince of Wales, is said to be responsible for a recent ruling of the British war office which makes moustaches optional with military officers. Although the prince is 20, his upper lip is still unshaded. His royal highness is soon to join a cavalry regiment.

An amusing story is told of the prince's recent experience with the Boy Scouts. Captured by a small band his royal highness was made to part with garments not usually removed in public, to insure against his escape. When the time came for his release his clothes were returned to him. Meantime he was "safe." For the principal is notoriously shy. The anticipation of his meeting with the president of France so rattled him that he confessed to his Oxford confidants, "In my anxiety I shall probably begin to talk German with him."

All day and evening tomorrow, Thursday, there will be a grand spring opening of Furniture and Carpets at Fotser's. Music, flowers and a splendid display. Come everybody.

GILBERT SOUNDS GOOD AS HURLER

He Does Not Seem to Make Much Noise as Owner or Manager.

TALK BY WAGNER

Terre Haute, Ind., March 25. A. W. Wagner, owner of the Terre Haute Central league baseball team, is right back on the job and while he has not said in so many words that Curtis Gilbert will not be part owner and manager of the club this season, he has said things that sound very much like it.

He talked for a short time with Gilbert and then had a long conference with Larry Quinlan and after the conference twenty players were ordered to report and then the owner said.

"From now on the fur will be flying thick and fast. Quinlan and I have talked the situation over to some extent and will start immediately to prepare for the opening of the season. We are both of the opinion that 'actions speak louder than words,' and as there have been a great many words during the last few weeks we wish to change the methods a little.

"There seems to be some kind of a mistaken opinion about this Gilbert matter. True, Mr. Gilbert had an option, but why that should affect the situation any is beyond me to see. If Mr. Gilbert saw fit to band together some of Terre Haute's leading business men to take the club off my hands, all right. Or if he saw fit to gather a band of Terre Haute's business men to be associated with me in the ball club, all right, too. But this much is certain, so far as I know now Mr. Quinlan is manager of the club at the present time and will continue in that capacity. I am glad that he is, for I know what he has done as a manager and know that he himself is a good ball player. I am like all of the other fans in the city in regard to Mr. Gilbert. I would like to see him pitch here, for there are but few baseball players of his stripe. Everyone knows he is a mighty good pitcher and is a gentleman as well."

One of the most pleasant announcements was that the deal for the purchase of Pitcher Mattison from the Buffalo club had been carried out and the hurler has wired from his home in Portland, N. Y., that he probably will be on hand shortly and ready for work. This deal has been hanging fire for some weeks and has just been completed. Mr. Wagner putting the finishing touches on as he came west after landing at New York.

Ted Anderson, first baseman with Fort Wayne last season, has been ordered to report immediately. He is spending the winter in Flint, Mich. "Billy" Gray, the shortstop with Wheeling two years ago and with the Norfolk (Va.) team in the Virginia league last year, also has been summoned. He led all of the shortstops with a percentage of .940.

Three players obtained from the Cubs also have been told to come immediately. They are: Pauwen, first baseman and outfilder; O'Connor, pitcher, and Heitmus, pitcher. Paynter, the pitcher with the Chicago Federals last season, will be another of the early reporting players.

Others who have received word to show at once are: A. Anderson, the shortstop obtained from the Lowell team; Ketter, the catcher with Manager Quinland and the St. Joe team in the Western league last year; Trohan, the pitcher drafted from the Kewanee (Ill.) club; Tom Stephenson, Shelburn, infielder, who was tried out last spring; Leonard Madden, pitcher of last year's team; Tommy Sheehan, infielder bought from the Youngstown club in the defunct Interstate league, but who finished last season with the St. Louis Federals; Maney, the promising young infielder who was with Denver at the start of last season, but who was injured early in the year and forced to drop out; Snider, first baseman with Akron in the Interstate last year; Roy Johnson, the local boy bought from the Paducah club in the Kitty league; Fisher, a catcher with the Decatur club two years ago; McGrath, outfielder with Zanesville; Meisner, outfielder with Nashville, and "Red" Hargrows from New Haven, Ind. "Red" is a brother of "Bubbles" and plays the same position as his big brother.

GERBERDING LEAVES TEAM.

Diffendorfer to Succeed Him as Captain of High School Basket Ballers.

Gerberding will leave the Fort Wayne high school after the present term and at the meeting of the players yesterday Diffendorfer was named to succeed him. Gerberding has been one of the most versatile athletes of the school, having participated in basket and baseball and in football, and his departure will leave a hole hard to fill.

Diffendorfer has shown class in athletics. The bowling team from the senior class has challenged the faculty and the faculty has issued a challenge to the basket ball team, excluding the regular high schol squad and the ineligibles.

MAJOR LEAGUERS VERY DIGNIFIED

Few Cut Ups on Teams and Outsiders Are Soon Squelched.

QUIET IN THE HOTELS

New Orleans, March 25. Many fans, possibly the majority of them, seem to cherish the idea that the leisure moments of baseball players are given over very largely to pranks and practical jokes of the sort so peculiar to Ed in dealing with Penrod's adventures at dear old Yale.

Nothing could be further from the truth, for as a class the big leaguers are not kittenish off the field and it is very rare for them to indulge in anything that smacks of college roguishness as portrayed in stories. They are great fellows to "kid" each other and now and then have a little innocent fun with a particularly raw "dusher," but in the main they are a very dignified lot of young men.

A certain Detroiter found this out recently. He came down to Gulfport expecting that there would be nothing but skylarking when the athletes were not actually engaged in practicing. Such horseplaying as putting ice water in somebody's bed, throwing chunks of bread around the dining room and stealing the wooden leg off a cripple he figured would enable him to have the time of his life.

This is the sort of thing that semi-professional and amateur baseball clubs out of their home town think big stuff. Such aggregations are always afraid that somebody will overlook the fact that they are ball players and the spirit that is going to attract the desired amount of public attention that must be imparted able to somebody or one to one of the number.

It is considered quite the smart thing among travelers, some are going to the cafe elderly ex-gens, pass waitresses and single young women with facetious attempts at flirtation. An out-of-town trip is supposed to be one continual scream with somebody always made the goat and the butt of all the jokes.

With this standard before him, the Detroiter came to Gulfport and found the Tigers a very slow bunch. They were so slow, in fact, that he did not stay his allotted time, but left in search of what he terms "fun." The first night he got to be tried a practical joke on one of the ball players and it didn't take at all. In fact some of the members of the squad expressed themselves in very plain language about an outsider's trying to get gay.

Several times after that our hero attempted to stir up some side-splitting stuff that would attract lots of attention, but none of the ball players would aid him and he finally quit in disgust, saying that they didn't have any pepper.

He would have found it so on any big league club, for the players hate to be conspicuous around the hotel just as much as they like to get in the limelight on the field. They realize that the more attention they attract in the lobby the more they will be bothered by well intentioned but sometimes boresome strangers who want to talk baseball, a form of conversation that is all very well among the insiders but palls when pulled by enthusiastic fans.

NATOONALS WIN FROM IROQUOIS.

Interesting Game Put on by Junior Team at St. Paul's Hall.

The Iroquois team was beaten by the Nationals last night at St. Paul's auditorium 34 to 18. The Iroquois scored shortly after the whistle blew, on a field goal by Getz, but the nationals tied it up on a shot by Luhman. The Iroquois led by 9 to 8 at the end of the first half. Players and summary:

Nationals—Hoffman and Stegner, forwards; Walda, center; Luhman and Adams, guards.

Iroquois—Getz and Alter, forwards; Ehrman, center; Yauch and Becker, guards.

Field goals—Hoffman 4, Stegner 10, Luhman 1, Adams 2, Getz 2, Alter 1, Ehrman 3. Goals on free throws—Ehrman 1. Referee—Trobra.

FIRST MAN IS ON JOB.

Evansville, Ind., March 25.—The first of the twenty-six men under contract to the local Central league baseball club reported to Manager Dutch Knoll today. Only eight of the men on the club's roster played here last year. Ten exhibition games have been booked, the first of which is with the Indianapolis American association club March 29.

INDIANAPOLIS A. A. TEAM ON TRAINING FIELD AT HOT SPRINGS, ARK.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)
Staff Special.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 25.—Class in baseball is a subject that has been discussed ever since two leagues named themselves majors and "others" the others. This spring there is a lot of discussion as to whether or not the Federal league will "class" with the majors.

There is a glorious opportunity to study "class" here at Hot Springs right now, and it is interesting. Not one in a thousand baseball fans can go to three parks here and tell by their playing whether they are watching the Boston Americans, the Pittsburg Pirates or the Indianapolis Association team, unless they know the men and the uniforms. An expert might find blemishes in the individual actions of the Indianapolis team, but the article of baseball that Jack Hendricks's boys are exhibiting is just as good as that of the Pirates. It is more advanced, modern and up to date than the kind the Boston Red Sox are showing at the other end of the valley.

Jack Hendricks is a major league manager. He has proved that since he left the Central league. He knows a ball player and he knows how to handle ball players. He gets results, and it is an experience to see him take spring handling a bunch of players mostly unknown to him, whipping a new team into shape and making a team that must fight for prestige in Indianapolis against the Feds and in the Association against stronger teams.

Hendricks's team is composed of cunningly chosen players. He has five men who a year ago were looked upon as major league prospects. Evidently Hendricks spotted them at that time and thinks with a year more of experience they are better than when the major leagues found them wanting in something. He has a corking pen of youngsters, one in the infield, one in the outfield, and it looks as if he had a pretty fair array of pitching talent.

The Indians have the best training grounds at the springs, sheltered between two mountains. It is protected from wind on three sides and gets the sunshine.

The catching staff is good enough. Paddy Livingston has been a corking catcher for many years. Vann is a good man, and McCarthy, from Troy, is very promising.

The pitchers are getting a chance to show their merits. Willis and Bark, who once were with the Cardinals, and Harrington, who once promised to be a Chicago find, are with the team. La Roy, the Indian, Mertz, Schardt, Gaskill and Wetzel make a promising array.

The infield is complete. Metz, at first, is well known. Crandall is at second. This fellow will bear watching by the scouts. He hits a ball as solidly almost as his brother Otis does. Kelleher, once with the St. Louis Cardinals, has class enough for the majors. Calloway is another Cardinal recruit.

Cole, from Lincoln, Niles and Reilly make up the outfield.

CENTRAL HURLER UNDER HANDICAP

Bowman Developed Sore Arm at Time When He Had Best Chance.

HE HAS SHOWN CLASS

Athens, Ga., March 25.—One of the biggest problems to be mastered by Joe Birmingham on the present training trip is the selection of a hurler who will be asked to fill Cy Falkenberg's shoes. It appears that this selection will narrow down to four men, Rip Hagerman, Abe Bowman, Al Collamore and Lefty James.

Undoubtedly Cy was very popular in Cleveland last season, and his consistent winning earned him that honor. His jump to the Feds has left a vacancy which must be plugged by a newcomer. And four recruits are hotfooting it for the job, James being listed as a recruit because he did not join the team until late last season.

As things stand, Rip Hagerman seems to have the edge. He's the owner of a fadeaway, one of the things which enabled Cy to do a comeback. Also, he has a wonderful physique, standing six feet four, and weighing around the 200 mark. He's built for plenty of work, something Cy could not stand too much of. He has shown enough down here to make Birmingham look upon him as a mighty sweet pitcher.

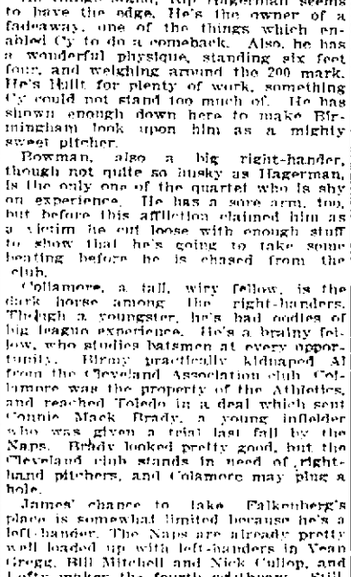
Bowman, also a big right-hander, though not quite so husky as Hagerman, is the only one of the quartet who is shy on experience. He has a sore arm, too, but before this affliction claimed him as a victim he cut loose with enough stuff to show that he's going to take some beating before he is chased from the club.

Collamore, a tall, wiry fellow, is the dark horse among the right-handers. Though a youngster, he's had oodles of big league experience. He's a brainy fellow, who studies batsmen at every opportunity. Birmy practically kidnaped Al from the Cleveland Association club. Collamore was the property of the Athletics, and reached Toledo in a deal which sent Connie Mack Brady, a young infielder who was given a trial last fall by the Naps. Brady looked pretty good, but the Cleveland club stands in need of right-hand pitchers, and Colamore may plug a hole.

James' chance to take Falkenberg's place is somewhat limited because he's a left-hander. The Naps are already pretty well loaded up with left-handers in Vean Gregg, Bill Mitchell and Nick Cullop, and Lefty makes the fourth southpaw. Still, Lefty is an experienced youngster, who has awakened to the serious side of baseball, and he may come through.

It's going to be a tough job for Birmy to pick one man from among the recruit hurlers to fill Falky's shoes, and he'll be better pleased if they all look good enough to be retained.

SUCCESSFUL AS A COACH.



COACH GILMORE DOBIE

Seattle, Wash., March 25.—Not content with leading the University of Washington football eleven to six consecutive championships, Coach Gilmore Dobie is gaining additional laurels by making an invincible basket ball team out of a bunch of cripples and some raw material.

So far this season the quintet has played eight games without being defeated, and shows promise of winning the conference championship from the best team in the eastern division. When Dobie agreed to take charge of basketball there were three first team men out of the game on account of injuries, but reliable men were developed from the new material to fill the vacancies until the old men could return, and the team continued to win.

This is not Dobie's first experience as basketball coach. While director of athletics at the agricultural college of North Dakota his basket ball team was not once defeated in 1906. It was not so successful during the following year, as the quintet was composed of boys of from 15 to 17 years of age. He has also had success with girls' basket ball teams under his direction.

VARNELL BUYS A GOOD SHORTSTOP

Harry Harrison Brant is Purchased to Fill the Infield.

DRAFTED LAST FALL

Harry Harrison Brant will do the shortstopping for the Fort Wayne club this season if he lives up to the reputation he established while he was working on the same job for the London and Petersboro clubs of the Canadian league.

In President Louis Heilbroner's records, maintained for sale of information to the major league club owners, and from which the Central league sport writers filch what they need, Brant stands as follows: 23-5-6 170 R-RH T-RH.

Translated into baseball this means that the new candidate for the job is 23 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds, bats right-handed and throws after the same fashion. In addition to this he has the hearty commendation of President Heilbroner, who wiped the lenses of his tortoise shell spectacles five times and munched half of a Wheeling slogee while he told that many major league clubs were watching this fellow last season and gave the reasons for watching him.

The report that this said stogie is any part of a consignment sent to San Antonio several years ago to boost Wheeling's chances for a meeting of the national association is vigorously denied by the president. Part of this consignment has never satisfactorily been accounted for.

Returning to Mr. Brant. He was very young and totally inexperienced when his parents named him Harry Harrison or he might have had some other monicker. Last fall he was drafted by the Chattanooga club from Petersboro and has worked out some in the south and ought to be in pretty good shape.

Shortstops on the Fort Wayne club have been proverbially strong and fast and Brant will have a hard position to fill but Mr. Varnell generally knows what he is about, and it is likely that the new aspirant will be of the same caliber as his predecessors.

He was with London, Can., in 1911 and with Petersboro the two following seasons and finished last year with a batting average of .260, which is pretty nifty for an infielder. Although rumor has it that Walter Dipp is in good with Detroit, there is every probability that he will play first base here. Owner C. H. Varnell is not making efforts to get another man, and he would be hustling hard if he was not certain that Dipp will report.

With Frankie Nespo for second and McLafferty back at third in good shape, the infield looks like a hard proposition for any young player to break into.

FEDERALS AFTER THE BEST CLUBS

Out With a Challenge to St. Paul or St. Mary's for a Series.

BEAT HARLAN TEAM

(By Morton Williams.)

Members of the Federal basket ball team believe they have as good right to tackle the city championship proposition as any of the other organizations and they are out today with a challenge to and city team, on any city floor and at any time. They prefer St. Paul's or St. Mary's crews but will meet both.

This challenge is the direct result of the overwhelming defeat last night at the Lyceum gym of the Harlan club, which went down before the Feds by a score of 42 to 12.

In the first five minutes of play Doyle hurt his knee and was unable to finish the game and DeWald played his position for the remainder of the game. In the early part of the contest Miller popped one in, and in half a minute repeated with another. Harlan seemed unable to find the basket in the first half and it ended 17 to 9 in the Federal's favor. Miller, Blee and Loos played their usual star game and between them shot eight baskets.

In the second half Mason went in for Thimlar and Stopher for Hart. These changes strengthened the Harlan aggregation and it played better basket ball after the shift. Miller played a star game for the Feds with nine field goals to his credit. Blee and Loos each shot five. The Harlan players tightened up and scoring was less easy for the Lyceum five. Between Boston, Schwartz and Walter Harlan managed to pile up a score of 12. Loos loosened all his front teeth in a bit of rough play in which he was shoved up against the wall, and for a time it was feared that he would be unable to finish the game but he recovered his nerve and stuck it out to the end. Players and summary:

Federals, 42.		Harlan, 12.
Miller	R. F.	Boston
Blee	L. F.	Schwartz
Loos	C.	Hart-Stopher
Doyle-DeWald	R. G.	Walter
Brown	L. G.	Thimlar-Mason

Field goals—Miller 2, Blee 5, Loos 5, Boston 3, Swartz 1, Walter 1. Free throws—Blee 2, Walter 2. Referee—Weaver.

HAD GREAT TIME, SAYS BOY GUNMAN

Lad Who Battled Police at Terre Haute, Tells of Pistol Fight.

SCARED? SHUCKS, NO!

Terre Haute, Ind., March 25.—"Shucks, no, I wasn't skared," said 15-year-old Earnest McWilliams, who engaged the police in a gun battle yesterday when seen at the hospital today. The boy received a number of wounds, but none of them is considered fatal.

"I went into Ed Tetzel's gun store three weeks ago and asked for a job. The old geezer threatened to kick me out of the store and I told him I would get even. I guess I did, when you figure up the broken window glass and the damage done by the policemen's bullets, not to mention the ammunition wasted.

"I didn't go into the store to steal anything and I didn't try to wound the police every time I fired. The only times I didn't shoot over their heads was when one would hit me with a bullet and I got peeved. Then I would try to lay a copper out.

"Oh, I had a great time, until that wound in my leg bled so much that I began to get dizzy and then I gave up. The whole thing was just as I planned it after seeing a moving picture film, showing two boys firing on the police when caught in a store, only I didn't intend to get hit."

McWilliams said he came here from Popular Bluff, Mo.

MRS. TULLY NOT SURPRISED.

Was Rather Expecting to Be Sued for Divorce.

NewYork, March 25.—Word from Los Angeles that her husband, Richard Walton Tully, playwright, had begun suit against her for divorce, did not come as a surprise to Mrs. Tully, who is now living in the city. When informed that the suit had been instituted, Mrs. Tully, who is known as Eleanor Gates, the author of several plays, did not seem surprised and admitted she had not lived with Mr. Tully for two years.

"I left him for good and sufficient reasons," she said. "But wish to make no charges against him. I suppose he is suing me because he wants to be free, and I can't see any reason why he shouldn't be. If by charging me with desertion he means only that I have left him, I can't deny the charge.

VALLS HAS DISAPPEARED.

American Reported Under Arrest Missing from Nuevo Laredo.

Laredo, Texas, March 25.—Arturo Valls, the American, has disappeared from Nuevo Laredo, where he was reported to have been arrested Monday by Mexican federals. The Nuevo Laredo authorities say they do not hold Valls but further question elicited the statement that one Alfonso Solis, detained for reasons not made public had been sent to Monterey for trial. Believing that Solis is her son, Vall's mother left here today for Monterey. Valls drove to Nuevo Laredo Monday where his horse and buggy disappeared. He traced his property to a point near the federal fortifications where he was arrested. He hasn't been seen since. American Consul Garrett at Nuevo Laredo is investigating.

URGES SUMMER EDUCATION.

Dr. Claxton Wants Schools to Do More Work Along This Line.

Washington, March 25.—Amplifying previous statements regarding summer schools, Dr. P. P. Claxton, federal commissioner of education, today declared that "The schools should provide some kind of education for the children through what is now in most cities, a long, wasteful vacation."

He predicted that the school of the future would give less time to intensive school study of the ordinary type—probably about three hours and four or five hours to productive work supervised by the school, done in shops out of doors or in the home. He added that the cost of adding three months of school would be comparatively small.

Dr. Claxton said at present the average child spends about 600 hours in school. He suggested that the summer work last not longer than four hours a day and be held in the forenoon.

NEW CHANGE IN DATE.

April 18 Now Fixed for Progressive State Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 25.—Owing to a conflict in the engagements for Tomlinson hall here, it has been found necessary again to change the date of the progressive state convention from April 1 to April 18. The date of the convention was first set for the middle of May then changed to April 1.

SUFFRAGE LEADER NO MORE.

Mrs. Frances Squire Potter Dies at Chicago Home.

Chicago, March 25.—Mrs. Frances Squire Potter, 47 years old, a leader among workers for woman suffrage, died at her home today. She was professor of literature at the University of Minnesota, professor of etymology at the Brooklyn institute, an officer of the federation of woman's clubs and a writer and speaker on suffrage topics. She will be buried probably on Saturday at her former home, Elmira, N. Y.

FOUR FIRES LEAD TO ARREST.

Discharged Railway Employe in Custody at Lafayette.

Lafayette, Ind., March 25.—Four fires today in the Big Four and Monon railroad properties here caused the arrest of Albert Nichols, a discharged employe of both companies. The four fires were started within two hours. The damages were not large.

BUT FOUND IT EMPTY.

Koetters Rented Safety Deposit Box After Woman's Death.

Chicago, March 25.—John R. Ketters, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Emma Kraft, of Cincinnati, in a Chicago hotel, rented a safety deposit box in Boston two months after the murder, according to testimony given today. C. J. Schweiner, manager of a Boston safety deposit vault, said that Koetters rented a box under the name of John Nieman. Schweiner said that detectives with a search warrant opened the box later and found it empty.

The state charges that Koetters lured Mrs. Kraft, an elderly woman, to Chicago with promises of marriage, and struck her down with a hammer and robbed her.

INDICTED AT TERRE HAUTE.

Three Accused of Conspiracy in Causing Strike Riots.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 25.—Indictments growing out of the recent street car rioting here were returned this afternoon by the grand jury which for the past four weeks has been investigating various cases. Chief of Police Edward Holler, Edgar L. Brown, a prominent labor leader, and Holton Redman, an attorney and politician, are charged jointly in one indictment with conspiring to cause the riots for the purpose of causing injury to the property of the traction company. Their bond was fixed at $25,000 each. The other indictment is against Sidney Onyett, a politician and lawyer, who is charged with illegally removing ballots. This case is in connection with the Huffman case recently tried. His bond was fixed at $3,000.

BUFFALO MEN ROLL HIGH.

Rodems Brothers Tie Pittsburg Men for Second Place.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 25.—Peter and George Rodems, brothers of Buffalo, rolled today's high score in the two-man event of the American Bowling congress tournament today, being Schenkel and Smith, of Pittsburg, for second place, with a score of 1,242, three plus behind the leaders, Negley and Van Ness, of Newark.

But for an unfortunate break in the tenth frame of their last game they would have taken the lead. George Rodems working on a strike, needed a double to go to the front, and made a pretty right pocket hit, but got only nine. The tenth pin shook but refused to fall.

WOMAN LEAVES $295,000 TO CHURCH AND CHARITY.

Cincinnati, March 25. Two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars is left to charities and churches by the will of Mrs. Francesca N. Gamble, widow of the late James N. Gamble, philanthropist. The will was filed for probate here today. Eighty-five thousand in cash is distributed among near relatives as well as a large amount of real estate.

TOBACCO CONCERN ACCUSED.

New York Company Told to Mend Its Ways at Once.

New York, March 25.—The Metropolitan Tobacco company is a jobbing monopoly in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and must mend its ways at once according to announcement made this afternoon by District Attorney Marshall.

Mr. Marshall made this statement after a conference with counsel for the Metropolitan and counsel for the four big tobacco companies which were formerly factors in the tobacco trust. The conference had been called to consider charges made by independent dealers that the four big companies violated the decree dissolving the trust by favoring the Metropolitan as a jobber. Mr. Marshall gave the concern until Monday to make plans to remedy the situation.

WANT GRANT AVENUE PAVED.

Property Owners Along That Street Anxious for Improvement.

Martin C. Norton, manager of the Berghoff brewery, and many owners of property along Grant avenue called at the office of the board of works this afternoon to urge that their thoroughfare be paved from Wayne street to Maumee avenue. The brewery owns a big frontage on the avenue, and is hurling the improvement in common with other property owners. Grant avenue is the first cross street for a long distance and the improvement of it is regarded as an urgent necessity. The board will try to find a way to provide for the paving.

EVERYBODY DODGES IT.

Bottle of Mysterious Liquid in Connersville Causes Stir.

Connersville, Ind., March 25.—A bottle filled with a heavy liquid and containing a perforated cork through one of the perforations of which a fuse was placed, was found in the attic of the court house here today. The find caused much excitement throughout the city as it was believed an attempt to blow up the court house with nitroglycerin had been made.

So far no one has dared to remove the bottle, and two chemists who were asked to analyze the liquid have refused.

WILL NOT VISIT AFRICA.

Trip of German Crown Prince is Definitely Abandoned.

Berlin, March 25.—The trip to Africa, which the crown prince had purposed this year, has been definitely abandoned. It is understood that the reason for this step is the emperor's objection to the crown prince interrupting his work on the general staff of the army by such a long absence. Another reason put forward in some quarters is that the imperial parliament would refuse an appropriation to cover the expenses of such a trip.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR TEACHERS

L. E. & W. Contracts to Handle Northeastern Indiana Delegation.

C. D. YOUNG IN ALTOONA HOSPITAL

Operated on for Appendicitis—Fireman Tegtmeyer Will Play Ball.

Arrangements were completed at noon today for a special train over the Lake Erie and Western road April 2, for Indianapolis, the occasion being the state meeting of the teachers in that city April 2 and 3. The train will leave Fort Wayne at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and arrive in the capital city at noon. Returning it will leave Indianapolis at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Only one stop to take on passengers will be made between this city and Indianapolis and that will be at Bluffton, where a big delegation will be picked up. Agent Ray Phillips, of the L. E. & W., says that upwards of 250 people will go to Indianapolis on this train, for which a special rate has been made.

HELD ON SWINDLING CHARGES.

Eugene McCullom Said to Have Duped Forty Banks.

Waterloo, Iowa, March 25. Eugene McCullom, aged 30, of Des Moines, was arrested here charged with obtaining money from forty banks in the middle west under false pretenses. A detective agency has been working on the case nearly a year.

McCullom has worked in Iowa and towns in southern Minnesota, where he claimed to represent the Interstate Business Men's Accident association.

Among the towns in Iowa where McCullom is said to be wanted are Council Bluffs, La Mars, Winterset, Northwood and Grinnell.

CHARLES YOUNG QUITE SICK.

Local motive power men of the Pennsylvania are in receipt of news from Altoona concerning the serious illness of C. D. Young, formerly of Fort Wayne. He is in a hospital in that city, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday. Mr. Young is the chief engineer of tests of the Pennsylvania railroad. Some years ago he was assistant master mechanic of the Western division of the Pennsylvania and has made frequent visits here on business and to see his old friends and former associates since he moved away.

WILL GO TO WARSAW.

A number of members of the Odd Fellow fraternity will go to Warsaw this evening to witness the exemplification of the first degree to a class of applicants. Among the party from this city will be G. H. Knothe, Carl Lepper, C. W. Grosvenor and A. E. Stewart, of the Pennsylvania machine shop. The first degree staff team of Warsaw has a state wide reputation for excellency in putting on this work.

NEW FEATURE AT SHOP MEETING.

A new feature will be introduced at the noonday meeting at the Pennsylvania machine shop tomorrow. In addition to the singing, there will be some cornet solos. Rev. Edward Montgomery, of the Third Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon. It is proposed to resume the meeting at the east car shops as soon as the weather becomes more favorable, probably next week.

TAKES THREE MONTHS' LAY OFF.

F. S. Hicks, a tinner in the Pennsylvania shops, has obtained a three months' leave of absence and will leave in a few days for Alberta, Canada. He is suffering from an affection of the throat which his physician believes would be driven away by the climatic conditions of that country.

RETURN FROM EAST TONIGHT.

Foreman George W. Szink, of the blacksmith department, and Foreman C. A. Contant, of the annex to the machine shop of the Pennsylvania, are enroute to Fort Wayne and will arrive here tonight. For the past week they have been looking after some special work at Altoona for the company.

WILL ENTERTAIN TONIGHT.

Anthony Helpmate, Ladies' society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, will be hostess at a pedro party at the B. L. E. hall, corner of Cherry and Main streets, this evening. The parties given by these ladies are always pleasant and well attended.

HAND PAINFULLY CUT.

William Shady, employed in the stock room at the Fort Wayne Electric works, has a gash cut in the knuckle of his left hand this morning. The wound was inflicted by the sharp corner of a piece of sheet iron Mr. Shady was handling.

SIGNS UP WITH SOUTH BEND.

R. L. Tegtmeyer, Pennsylvania yard-fireman, has obtained a six months' leave of absence and will play ball the coming season. This morning he signed a contract to play short or second infield with the South Bend team in the Southern Michigan league. He is instructed to report for business April 7. Mr. Tegtmeyer is one of the best ball players of the city and ranked prominently in the shop league players.

FRED MEYERS HAS PNEUMONIA.

Fred C. Meyers, a veteran molder and for several years employed as a casting inspector for the Wabash, is now seriously ill with pneumonia. He has been unable to leave the house for a week, being attacked by the grip at first, but pneumonia only developed yesterday.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

V. J. Dodson is a new helper in the Pennsylvania machine shop.

Pennsylvania Engineer C. B. Whitman is off duty on account of sickness.

E. P. Weitel, who was sick a week, reported for work at the Pennsylvania pipe shop this morning.

Machinist Ed White is absent from his lathe in the Pennsylvania shops on account of sickness in his family.

F. H. Lauer, painter, who was sick three or four days, reported for work at the Pennsylvania shops this moning.

The semi-annual examination of watches of Nickel Plate employes will commence April 1 and continue until the thirtieth.

Paul M. Axline, a pipefitter at the General Electric Lamp works, has resigned and gone to New York where he will reside.

A. J. Bobay, William Wartenbee, Carl Peters, Howard Majors, G. A. Lash and S. C. Gonty, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

E. F. Needham, general superintendent of motive power of the Wabash, will arrive in the city this evening and remain over night.

E. J. Fisher went to Chicago yesterday on business for the Bass Foundry and Machine company. He will go to Peoria before he returns home.

Ed Shinneman, clerk in the Pennsylvania maintenance of way office, is on duty again, having returned from a visit with his father in Upper Sandusky.

H. E. McElroy, of Springfield, Ill., connected with the accounting department of the Wabash, was in the city today on business with the local shops officials.

Mrs. Coar, wife of Pennsylvania Passenger Brakeman G. E. Coar, left today for Lafayette where she will assist in caring for her sister, Mrs. R. O. Bittler, who is sick.

J. J. O'Neil, who had been sick in the St. Joseph hospital for about two weeks, has recovered and reported for work this morning. He is employed in the car machine shop of the Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Herman Lankenau and baby boy left the Lutheran hospital today and are now at their home. Mr. Lankenau is taking a day off from his work at the Pennsylvania shops to celebrate the event.

A. R. Crisswell, of Chicago, inspected 100 car wheels at the Bass Foundry and Machine shop yesterday for the Baltimore and Ohio company. The wheels will be sent to Lima for the C. H. & D. branch.

The Lake Erie and Western trainmen and station attaches who are supposed to be clothed in uniform, are to be measured this week. Agents of Marshall Field & Company are now going over the lines, taking the measurements.

Machinist Julius Koch, of the Pennsylvania shops, Mrs. Koch and their two daughters, the Misses Esther and Dorothy Koch, will leave tomorrow for Grand Rapids, Mich., where they will spend several days with relatives and friends.

In mention of those who bought first tickets at the opening of the new Pennsylvania station Monday, the name and address of Miss Minnie Graham, of 719 East Lewis street, was incorrectly given. Miss Graham accompanied her sister, Mrs. Adam LaMar, and niece, Miss Luella LaMar, to Chicago and was the first purchaser of a Pullman ticket at the new station.

WHEELS STOP AS BROWN KEYS UP

Industrial Life in Arcola Put on Blink by Booze and Bad Buzz Saw.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

The hum of industry was hushed, the great smoke-stack towered smokeless, and eleven men employed in the sawmill at Arcola lost time and wages because Ed Brown, foreman, failed to keep an appointment he had with Tom Smith at the corner of Harrison and Superior streets yesterday afternoon. Brown and Smith brought the buzz saw of the Arcola mill to Fort Wayne to be repaired. While Smith went to the Landis saw works on Highland street, Brown went sipping around the saloons that are found with some frequency in our teeming city's busy center. Brown got a souse that would have caused a sensation among the home folks and was important enough to require police attention. He was down and out and was sent in. In the city court today Brown told Judge Kerr that the Arcola sawmill was and would be a gloomy futility and that the livelihood of eleven men was in suspense and so would be until he could get back. Upon his assurance that he could reach Arcola in time to blow a 1 o'clock whistle today and get the works in operation and the eleven men back to work, Brown was allowed to go.

Struck Officer on the Nose.

A man who was booked as Fred Heiney, and whose right name is said to be Herman Meyer, was one of a trio of fellows who staged a drunken riot along Calhoun street last night. When Officer Young attempted to break it up he was assaulted by Heiney, who gave him our smashing poke on the beak. That organ was asserting undue prominence this morning and was literally dominating the scenery of the officer's countenance. While Officer Young was trying to manage George Henry and Fred Nahrwald, Heiney assaulted the officer. Merchant Policeman Jack McLaughlin came to Young's assistance and the arrest was made. Heiney was fined $10 and costs on a disorderly charge and Henry and Nahrwald $1 and costs each on similar charges.

Riot in a Restaurant.

Glenn Lamb took his jag into the Weinand restaurant on Court street at an early hour this morning, got noisy, was put out, came back, started things with Ralph Cook, and emerged from the melee that followed with a broken nose and other injuries about the head and face. During a fusilade of sugar bowls and other table trinkets Victor Blough, 1026 Rivernet avenue, was struck in the back of the head with a dish of some sort and received a gash that required some stitching. Lamb's case was continued until tomorrow.

Other City Court Cases.

Jess Felger was slated for drunkenness, and his case continued until Saturday. Meanwhile the police will try to learn where and by what means Felger got possession of fifty feet of two-inch hemp cable that he sold to a junk dealer. Felger has been in the city court many times.

Frank Monnett gets an annuity. He got the month's installment yesterday morning through the postoffice. It amounted to $40. He took some drinks and then the fog rose. He was picked up unconscious on Coombs street. Of the $40 he had in the morning but $2 remained. He does not think he could have spent it all. He went over for $11.

George Lane, found drunk in a down town alley, and Jim Hart, who went to pieces near the Pennsylvania railway offices on Clinton street, were turned loose. William Thomas, with youth and as fine a crop of whiskers as ever were grown in Paulding county, Ohio, came to the city to look for work. Promptly got a job "chisting 'em" and was pinched. He got by with a story of being sober, industrious and unused to drink.

Ed Piepenbrink went to the home of his brother-in-law, 319 East Lewis street, started a row over family affairs that he declined to discuss in the city court this morning, and at length became so boisterous the police were called. He was allowed to go after pleading guilty to a disorderly charge.

Trace Bauer, tried for assault and battery, was acquitted by Judge Kerr this morning. The trial consumed much of yesterday.

Ralph Shields, charged with violating the speed laws with his automobile, was fined $10 and costs. He paid $25 and costs on a similar charge yesterday.

KOKOMO HIGH SCHOOL BURNS.

Building Was Soon to Have Been Razed to Make Way for New.

Kokomo, Ind., March 25.—Fire destroyed the high school building here early today, causing a loss estimated at $55,000. Gas, escaping in the basement and becoming ignited, is believed to have caused the fire. Several firemen had a narrow escape, when one of the walls fell while the fire was in progress. The building was to have been razed this summer and a new $150,000 structure erected in its place. Bonds for the new building already have been sold. The old building was erected seventeen years ago.

CHICAGO 1914 STORM CENTER

Democrats and Progressives to Open Campaign Headquarters There.

GETTING IN ACTION

Chicago, March 25.—Establishment of the progressive national headquarters in a loop hotel shortly after April 1 will be followed by the opening of western headquarters for the republican congressional campaign committee. These moves indicate Chicago is to be the real fighting base of the 1914 campaign.

Already announcement has been made that the democratic national committee will be open for business in Chicago about June 1, with Congressman Frank E. Doremus, of Detroit, and Thomas J. Pence, of Washington, in charge.

Joseph M. Dixon, former United States senator from Montana, who was the Roosevelt manager in the preliminary campaign of the 1912 republican national convention and then became the first national chairman of the progressive party, will handle the executive end of the progressive fight. He expects to be assisted by Oscar K. Davis, secretary of the national committee.

Secretary Davis was in Chicago yesterday for a conference with Vice Chairman Medill McCormick over the conduct of 1914 hostilities.

"Logical Spot" to Direct Fight.

"Chicago is the logical spot from which to direct the 1914 campaign," Mr. McCormick said after securing reports from Mr. Davis. "Mr. Davis has just completed a tour of the middle western states and finds conditions most satisfactory. The progressive party is stronger than it has been. In the congressional elections in November it will demonstrate its vigor by electing progressives in many more districts than we carried in 1912. This will be particularly true of the southern states, where there has been little or no opposition to democratic nominees.

"For a time Senator Dixon and Secretary Davis will conduct the campaign from our offices in the city hall square building, but when the real work opens they will secure a suite in one of the hotels. We will be amply equipped for a thoroughly organized fight."

G. O. P. Plans Long in Making.

In the absence of National Committeeman Roy O. West, who is in the east, no authoritative announcement was made that the republican national committee will have Chicago headquarters. But republican leaders were given to understand in Washington during the winter that this is the plan to be pursued.

The probabilities point to a joint arrangement between the national and the congressional campaign committees by which offices in Chicago will be occupied about the time congress adjourns.

The feeling seems to be that the Illinois senatorial campaign will be the most spectacular and the most significant of any senatorial combat this fall.

Joliet Convicts Flee to Chicago in Warden's Automobile.

JOY-RIDE NOW ENDED

Chicago, March 25. Two "trusties" at the Joliet penitentiary, lured by the cabaret and white lights, escaped from the prison Monday evening. They returned yesterday to solitary confinement.

Their joy ride, taken in the automobile belonging to Warden Edmund M. Allen, ended at Joliet after they had spent the night riding about Chicago and visiting familiar scenes.

Edward Smith and James McGee had been "trusties" at the penitentiary for years. Smith was chauffeur for the warden and McGee was coachman. Both enjoyed more privileges than are accorded other prisoners.

No Trouble in Escaping.

The prisoners departed in the automobile Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock. No one questioned them, as they frequently went to the station to meet the warden on his return from Chicago. Warden Allen did not return Monday night, so the men started on their joy ride.

It ended in the Twenty-second street district. Early yesterday morning they started on their return trip.

In the meantime William R. Walsh, deputy warden, had missed the automobile. At 10:30 o'clock Monday night armed guards were sent to search the surrounding country. Telegrams describing the machine and the men were sent to cities throughout Illinois and Wisconsin.

No word was heard from the men until the prison automobile was seen at about 8 a. m. yesterday passing the site of the new penitentiary, where several convicts were working. A watchman sent word to the penitentiary and the joy riders were captured about four blocks away from the prison.

Both men were immediately handcuffed and placed in solitary confinement. Neither will enjoy the privileges he had before.

Time Flies Swiftly.

"We did not intend to stay away," said Smith to Deputy Warden Walsh. "We were out on our honor, and we are 'on the square.' The time passed faster than we thought, that's all."

"I'm sorry, Smith," said Walsh, "but there have been too many attempts at escape lately, and I will have to put you both in solitary confinement."

He called two guards, and the men were taken to "the hole," as the solitary confinement cell is called.

The Court of Honor will give the last of a series of pedro parties this evening at the Star theater.

KEEPING EYE ON GUNNESS SUSPECT

Canadian Police Urge Laporte to Send Officer to See Woman.

RUMORS LONG AFLOAT

Swift Current, Sask., March 25.—After several weeks of rumors which at first they were inclined to discredit, officers of the northwest mounted police today placed a watch near Neville on a woman homesteader under the suspicion that she may be Mrs. Belle Gunness, the Laporte, Ind., murderess. The watch will be maintained until officers from the United States who personal knew Mrs. Gunness arrive to prove or discredit the reported identification.

One man living here, who said he went to school with the Gunness woman in Norway and knew her in Laporte, asserted that he saw her on the streets here a few days ago. The police say the man with whom she has been living all winter went to Havre, Mont., to purchase an automobile and that is one reason why they established a close watch on the woman.

OFFICER WILL GO.

Laporte, Ind., March 25.—It is expected that Clint Cochrane, marshal during Belle Gunness' case, who supported H. W. Worden, deputy prosecutor, in his theory that Mrs. Gunness escaped when her house was burned in 1908, will leave tomorrow morning for Canada. Mrs. Gunness, through matrimonial advertisements, lured twelve men to her place and after getting their money murdered them and buried their bodies in her dooryard.

SCHOOLS CLOSE WEDNESDAY NOON.

Teachers of City to Attend Teachers' Convention at Indianapolis.

The public schools of this city will close at noon Wednesday, April 1, according to notices distributed this morning in the high school, on account of the Northern Indiana Teachers' association convention to be held in Indianapolis April 2,3 and 4. NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

PORTLAND JUDGE HALTS TRIAL.

Defective Defendant in Paternity Suit Said to Be Jobbed.

Portland, Ind., March 25.—A score of witnesses were summoned into the circuit court from Redkey to tell what they knew of the mental condition of Eli Turner, defendant in a paternity suit brought by Caroline Green, of Dunkirk. Turner, when arrested Saturday night, agreed to marry the woman, rather than face the charge against him. It developed that he had been informed that unless he did marry her he would be sent to jail and to be kept out of durance vile he consented.

All of the witnesses called testified that he was mentally deficient and incapable of entering into a marriage contract, and when called to the witness stand Turner demonstrated that he is bordering closely on feeble mindedness. He could not tell his age, knew nothing about his parentage except the given names of his father and mother. He is bothered with a stoppage in his speech and is deaf.

His friends who had launched objections to the issuance of a license for him to marry his accuser, contend that he was "railroaded" to cover up the guilt of another. It was intimated that the Green woman is the mother of five illigitimate children, aside from the unborn babe she accuses Turner of being the father of.

CHILD'S FATAL MALADY.

Hartford City, Ind., March 25.—After suffering for three months with a cancerous growth on the left side, which increased to such proportions that it weighed seventeen pounds when death came, Catherine Irene Burnworth, aged five years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Burnworth, living near Mollie, is dead. The child was playing in the yard one day last winter. Stubbing her toe, she fell over, her side striking a small stump. The little one's body was wrenched, but nothing much was thought of it. Soon, however, it was discovered that she was suffering with a growth that was incurable. An operation would have been futile, because the growth would have returned.

TO HAVE REGIMENTAL BAND.

Van Wert, Ohio, March 25.—At a meeting of the members of the Buffalo band and of the old Hiestand band, it was unanimously decided to accept the offer made to the boys by Col. E. S. Bryant, of Hicksville, and make Van Wert the headquarters of the Second Regiment band. Col. Bryant was notified over the telephone of the decision and was told that the band boys wanted a few days in which to see if they could secure the necessary twenty-eight men, as at the present time they can only muster twenty-two members. The colonel told them not to feel in the least concerned over the matter, as he had several players at Tiffin and Hicksville who wanted to become members of the organization. Accordingly the matter was closed up.

MARRIAGE RECALLS MURDER.

Hartford City, Ind., March 25.—A Missouri tragedy in which a former Blackford county man was the victim, is recalled by the issuance of a marriage license here to the widow, Mrs. May Humphrey-Starr, relict of Benjamin Starr. According to court house officials, Starr was killed in Missouri a few years ago following trouble over a ditch contract. His adversary blew off Starr's head with a shotgun. According to the application for a license Mrs. Starr stated that her husband was killed in 1910. The bride gave her age as twenty-three. Her father is George W. Humphrey. Russell Garrett, 24, a moulder, and son of Isaac Garrett, is the bridegroom.

SKUNK HIDES CAUSE TROUBLE.

Goshen, Ind., March 25.—In Justice Galentine's court here George W. Hawks, of Baintertown, filed affidavits against Peter Eiler, conductor, and John Denny, motorman of a Winona interurban car out of Goshen, charging them with assault and battery. Hawks, carrying a sack filled with skunk hides, attempted to board the car at the local station and the conductor told him he would have to leave the hides behind or stay off. Denny then came to Eiler's assistance and Hawks was given some punishment. It is alleged he made himself obnoxious to the crew and passengers, some of whom complained.

NINE CHILDREN SURVIVE HIM.

Avilla, March 25.—Moses Fisher, a pioneer resident of this vicinity, passed away at his home on South Main street, after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. He leaves a widow and nine children to mourn his loss. The children are: Mrs. Frank Koons and Mrs. Wilmer Walters, west of Avilla; Mrs. Carl Hogman, south of Albion; Mrs. Will Brumbaugh, near Albion; Mrs. Frank Weaver, south of Avilla; Mrs. Will Sheets, east of Kendallville; Frank Fisher, north of Avilla, and Mrs. Chas. Brumbaugh and Will Fisher, of Avilla.

WOMAN IS HELD BLAMELESS.

Hartford City, Ind., March 25.—The verdict of Coroner C. F. Rutledge, in the death of Frank Alison, the month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Miller, which has been filed in the clerks' office, holds that the child came to his death at the hands of his mother. Mrs. Miller, however, is legally cleared by the verdict, which holds that she was insane at the time of the child's death. The coroner in his report says that he found every indication pointing to the weak mental condition of Mrs. Miller. He has not given his verdict sooner because of Mrs. Miller's condition.

STOPS CAR AND DAMAGES IT.

Goshen, Ind., March 25.—When a Winona interurban car into Goshen yesterday afternoon reached the Baintertown crossing, R. B. Brown, the motorman, to avert a collision with a buggy in which two unknown men were riding, applied the emergency brakes with such force that the jolt broke an armature shaft and the damage is estimated at $250. It was necessary to tow the car into the Goshen station.

DEATHS IN VAN WERT.

Van Wert, Ohio, March 25.—Mrs. O. Frederick Halliwell, 33, is dead of tuberculosis. She is survived by her husband and one child.

The funeral of J. H. Ketrow, 60, who died suddenly of heart trouble, was held yesterday.

MATHEMATICS CLUB TO MEET.

The Mathematics club of the local public school, Arthur Stephens president, will meet in regular session Friday evening at 7:30 in room 18 of the school building. Restores Pleasing Plumpness

Samose Sold Under Meyer Bros. Co. "No Cure No Pay" Plan.

There are a good many people in Fort Wayne who ardently wish they could find some way of getting fat and plump. While not ill, yet they are so thin and scrawny that their friends think they cannot be well. In nine cases out of ten this condition can be readily overcome by using the combination of flesh-forming foods known as Samose. This little tablet taken three times a day with the food does wonders in building up good health and restoring the pleasing plumpness that is so desirable.

Meyer Bros. Co. have the agency for this preparation and sell it with the promise that if it does not do all that is claimed for it in making people gain in weight and in health, the money will be refunded.

You certainly can afford to try a 50c box on this plan, as Samose will cost you nothing unless it gives satisfaction.

Miss Drake Wages Real Political War to Beat "Bathouse John"

Special Writer Spends a Day Campaigning With Earnest Candidate for Alderwoman in Chicago.

(By Gertrude M. Price.)

Chicago, Ill., March 25.—Equipped with the practical outfit of a map and list of polling places, Marion D. Drake, candidate for alderwoman, and I spent a day recently canvassing the First ward; a melting pot of Chicago's great mass of striving humanity.

Miss Drake is waging a fierce political battle with "Bathhouse" John Coughlin of notorious aldermanic fame.

We started from the unpretentious, businesslike Marion H. Drake political headquarters in the center of the busy ward early, for it was to be a house-to-house canvass, on foot.

The persons whom we sought were women—women with children, women who washed for a living, women who lived in one or two small rooms at the top of a rickety stairway; colored women, Jewish women, Swedish women, Irish women—all kinds of women!

The first house stopped at was a queer, forsaken-looking two-story building where an old-fashioned knocker hung hopelessly and helplessly by a worn bit of cord. There was no use to knock, so we stepped inside and walked up up the carpetless stairs. Before we reached the top a woman opened the door and looked out rather tearfully. The surrounding seemed to indicate that anything to improve the conditions would be welcomed.

"We just called to asked you if you had registered or if you will register," began Miss Drake.

"No, I haven't and I don't intend to, and nothing you can say will make me," was the unfaltering, unexpected rejoinder.

"You have children?" said Miss Drake.

"Yes."

"Don't you want conditions to be better in this ward for their sakes?"

"Yes, but I don't think it's a woman's place to go to the polls!"

Half an hour's straight-from-the-shoulder argument didn't persuade our friend—but we left her with a promise that she would, at least, think things over.

"Come in," said the next housekeeper. "Sit down."

We chatted with her. "Yes, I have registered. And I intend to vote for you, Miss Drake. But won't you please go upstairs next door and talk with the widow lady there.

A colored woman, alert and intelligent, stopped Miss Drake.

"I'm from the second ward, but we want to help you. What can I do? Send me any dopes. I am not afraid to work. I'll give you three days this week."

A big, good-natured Swedish woman opened the next door to us. A 20 months' old curly headed boy, clinging to her skirts, peeped out too. I noticed the steam rising from her hands, and knew she had just come from the washtub.

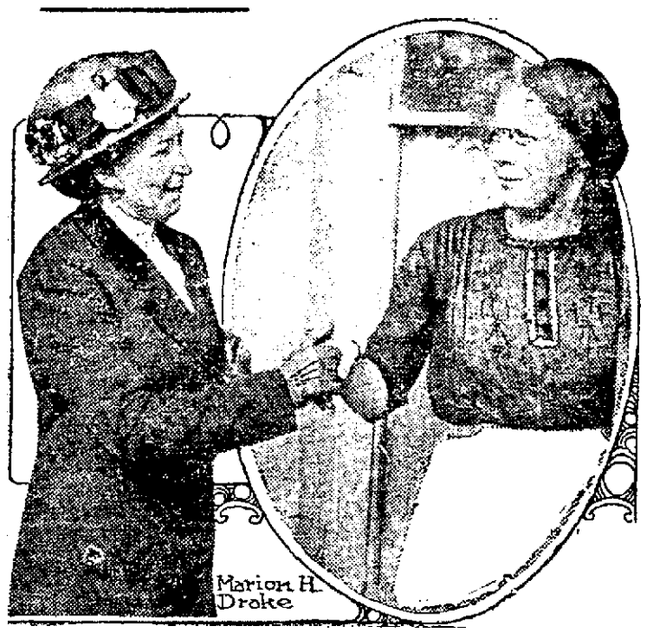
"Will you register?" asked Miss Drake. "Oh, yes, maybe," she said smilingly.

Up and down large flights of stairs, in and out back yards, into corner groceries, delicacy stores, rooming places and huge private dwellings we went. Sometimes Miss Drake saw the hired girl. Sometimes she saw the lady of the house. It didn't make any difference, for they were all women equipped with an equal right and power, the right to register and then to vote.

And nearly every woman declared her intention to use her right to the utmost!

* * *

Then they went to see "Bathhouse" John.



MISS MARION DRAKE TELLING A HOUSEWIFE WHY SHE SHOULD HELP THROW "BATHHOUSE" JOHN OUT OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

"How do you do?" I began.

"How 'do."

"I should like to talk to you about the situation in the first ward, and your campaign."

"No sir-ee. I mean no ma'am."

"Why not?"

"No. I can't do it." (Brief silence).

"Well, will you talk about the women in your ward?"

"I should say not!"

"Well, then, what will you talk about?"

"About women's gowns if you like."

"Oh, you are an authority on that subject?"

"Well, I was in the millinery business once."

"Goodby!"

J. J. Coughlin

How a Woman Campaigns Against "Bathhouse" John.

Marion H. Drake's methods of campaigning are unique.

She does lots of back-door canvassing, reaching women whose time is limited, but whose interests and needs are vital!

She gives afternoon teas and evenings "at homes" for voters.

She passes the time of day with the policeman on his beat; stops in at the corner grocery store for a little morning talk.

She is conversant with and talks about everything from babies to ballots. She teaches men as well as women how to register and vote.

Sometimes she rides in an automobile with a society woman who is helping her in her campaign, and other times she has perched up on a delivery wagon or a teamster's wagon.

NOSE AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD OR CATARRH, OPEN AT ONCE

My Cleansing, Healing Balm Instantly Clears Nose, Head and Throat—Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. — Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

FITTING A NAME FOR THIS SNAKE

New Green-Hued Species is Brought to Eastern Markets.

CALLED ST. PATRICK

New York, March 25.—"Snakey Jake" Schmidt, student of nature and collector of all that is wild and weird in fish, flesh and fowl, is with us again. "Snakey," accompanied by a collector of birds, alligators, snakes, monkeys and pigs that would greatly assist in drawing crowds to even the greatest and best circus in the world, arrived on board the Graecia, of the Hamburg-American line, from Cartagena, Colombia.

"We have here," said "Snakey," in his best style, to the ship news reporters who viewed his menagerie in the hold of the vessel from safe positions at the edge of the forward hatchway, "a snake which I have never seen before. Therefore, he is not only some snake, but one for which a name will have to be provided by scientists.

"As you see he is a bright green, very pretty and about as thick as your thumb. Out of respect to his color and the time of the year I have christened him St. Patrick. He is very poisonous, but I can handle him safely, as I am immune, being full of the venom of many other reptiles and insects.

"And here," he continued, without taking a breath, "is Sally, also very poisonous. Also Pete and Jane, two very pleasant boa constrictors."

With the two big snakes about his neck and the small ones writhing in his right hand, "Snakey" climbed up to the deck. Meantime the water front scribes sought safety in the rigging of the derricks, to take his picture.

The snakes put away, and the spectators having again regained the deck, the rest of the collection was placed on view.

Mike, a spider monkey, who walks erect as any man, came first, with a smaller brother and sister. Then two large cages containing marmosets, two hundred wild South American pigeons and ducks, two colored billed and one plain billed toucan, one cayunga, a beautiful stork like bird, half a dozen iguana, six small and two large caymen, half alligator and half crocodile; two water hogs, which resemble very large rats, and one very pretty and happy tiger cat.

"Snakey Jake" explained that he originally had seven water hogs, but that in a storm, the largest of his caymen, weighing 1,600 pounds, had broken loose from its crating and had devoured five of the hogs before being captured.

Most of the collection are to be sold to various dealers and shows, but Mike and St. Patrick will be taken to "Snakeys" home and added to his own private menagerie.

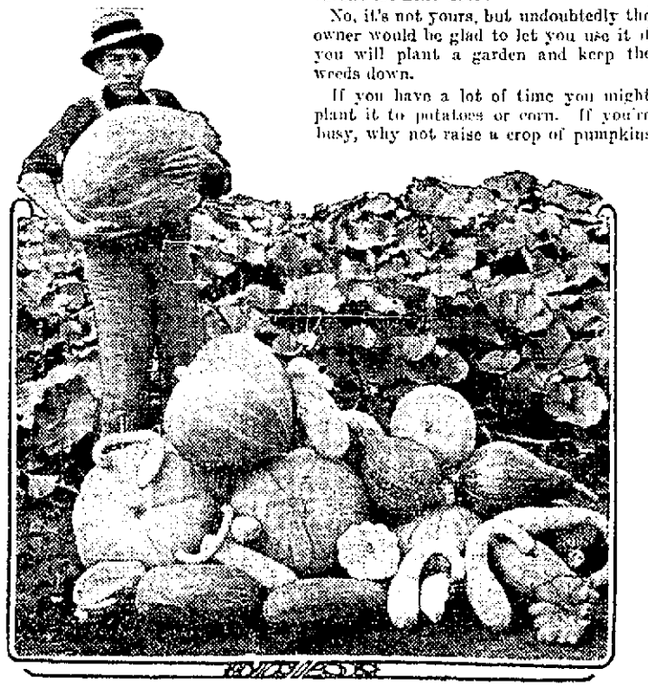
WHY DON'T YOU PLANT THAT VACANT LOT?



Attention, back-yard gardeners! Get out your catalogues.

Planting time will soon be here. What are you going to raise on that vacant lot next door?

No, it's not yours, but undoubtedly the owner would be glad to let you use it if you will plant a garden and keep the weeds down.

If you have a lot of time you might plant it to potatoes or corn. If you're busy, why not raise a crop of pumpkins or squash. These vegetables do not require much watching or cultivation and the corner grocer will probably buy all that you don't use.

DR. HURTY IS HERE.

State Health Secretary Was Guest of Dr. E. A. Crull.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, of Indianapolis, secretary of the Indiana state board of health, was in Fort Wayne Tuesday, and was the guest of Dr. Eric A. Crull, former secretary of the Fort Wayne board of health, and last evening he accompanied the latter to the battery B armory and participated in the shoot of the Fort Wayne Revolver club. Dr. Hurty left this morning for several towns in the northern part of the state.

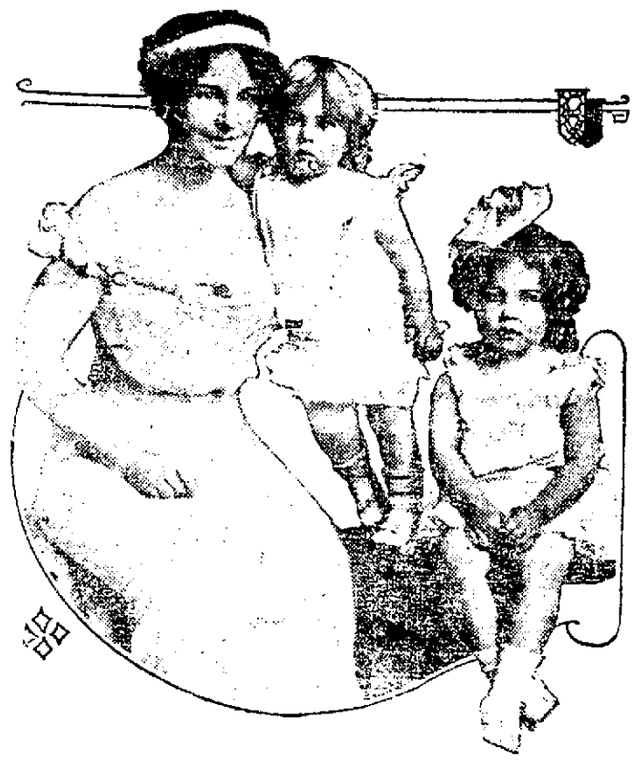
PLEADS FOR LIFE OF BANDIT WHO KILLED HER HUSBAND.



Mrs. Horace Montague, wife of the victim of highway robber and murderer, Ralph Fariss, who, as John Bostick, held up a Southern Pacific train on which Montague was riding and shot him to death. The two baby girls are also shown.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 25.—Unique in criminal history as the first wife to make an official plea for the life of the slayer of her husband, Mrs. H. E. Montague of this city recently sent to Governor Johnson of California a letter in which she asks that the life of Ralph Fariss, murderer of her husband, be spared.

"It is not that I am making a plea for this man Fariss," she says, "but that I am asking mercy, and justice as I see it, for every Fariss in the world. I want the slayer of my husband saved from the gallows. The taking of his life cannot restore my husband to me.

"The taking life by the state cannot justify murder by an individual; a second life cannot bring back the first.

"I do not believe in capital punishment under any circumstances. I did not believe in it before my husband's death, and I do not believe in it now.

"I believe in the law of love. If the teachings of Jesus Christ and Him crucified mean anything, they mean love and forgiveness for the sins of others.

"Crime is a sickness, and hanging a criminal never will stop it. We as a human family must seek to understand causes and cure the sickness.

"'Thou shalt not kill.' That expression should mean the same to the state that it means to the individual.

"I am asking the governor of the great state of California to pardon Ralph Fariss in the name of the great human family of which we are all a part, because I do not want the life of a human being in payment for the life of my husband.

"I forgive the erring, soul-sick boy who crossed my path in a moment of mental agony and moral cowardice; I ask the community also to forgive him and instead of taking his life, treat him as one who is morally sick.

"In the name of common brotherhood and sisterhood of men and women in the cause of civilization, in the name of universal love, I ask it.

Fariss is the man who three months ago robbed a Southern Pacific train, shooting and killing Horace Montague, an official of the road, who had been in the employ of that company for 20 years. It was loyalty to the interests of the company that prompted Montague to resist the attacks of the desperate boy bandit. Montague is survived by his wife and two baby daughters. Fariss, condemned to death, is waiting in his cell in San Quentin, Cal.

WOMAN'S NEW JAW MADE FROM A RIB

Mrs. Olga Slavin Can Whistle and Enjoy Her Food

BY SURGEON'S SKILL

New York, March 25.—An extraordinary operation recently was performed at the Cumberland Street hospital, Brooklyn, when the seventh rib of Mrs. Olga Slavin, of No. 519 East Thirteenth street, Manhattan, was cut away and the bone used in making a new jaw in place of that removed four years ago. Mrs. Slavin already is able to chew her food, sing and whistle. So skilfully did the surgeons perform their work that scarcely a trace of their handiwork is visible.

The operation was performed by Dr. B. F. Shea, surgeon dentist at No. 324 Stuyvesant avenue, Brooklyn, with the aid of Dr. O. S. Ritch, Dr. Robert E. Walmsley and Dr. Harold Sanders. The operation, because of its unusual character, attracted general attention, so that many surgeons and all the internes of the hospital were in attendance. The operation was completed within two hours and fifty-six minutes.

Mrs. Slavin, who is twenty-six years old, developed a cancer of the jaw four years ago in Syracuse and as a result the anterior portion of her jaw was removed. The cutting away of the jaw rendered certain muscles useless, causing the tongue to collapse and depriving her of its control. She was unable to chew food and lived on gruel, milk and soft foods.

Dr. Shea said that when his attention was called to Mrs. Slavin's case, early in December, the idea of cutting away part of one of her ribs and using it as a jawbone occurred to him. The woman was removed to the Cumberland Street hospital, and while Dr. Ritch and Dr. Walmsley cut away the lower right rib, Dr. Shea dovetailed the remaining ends of the jawbones. Then he manipulated the piece of rib, dovetailed the ends to fit in the stubs of bone and inserted the newly constructed anterior section.

The muscles were then fastened to the bone and within a few days it was found that the covering of the rib was perfect and permitted the muscular attachment to adhere firmly. Within a few days Mrs. Slavin regained the use of her tongue and she was able to speak. Soon she will be provided with a lower set of teeth, which will be fastened upon the bone, and she will be permitted to leave the hospital.

HONEYMOON SHOES KNOCK DOWN TWO

Departure of Bridal Pair Starts Riot in Train Station.

WAS A BOMBARDMENT

New York, March 25.—Punctuating their farewells with flying shoes, confetti and rice, the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Mergenthein caused an uproar in the Pennsylvania station which ended only when the conductor of the Florida special of the Atlantic Coast line was carried senseless on to his train and one of the trainmen lay on the platform.

John Nolan, the conductor, and B. C. Van Arsdale, trainman, were standing on the platform a few minutes before the train was due to leave, when the wedding party, more than one hundred strong, went into the concourse. In the lead was the newly married couple, dodging showers of rice and confetti.

Mr. and Mrs. Mergenthiem reached the gate to the train platform just ahead of their pursuers. They passed through and the gate was closed in time to stop their tormentors. Balked in their original intention, the party crowded against the iron railing and watched the couple descending. Then the heavy artillery opened.

Indirect firing was the order, and over the railing went a volley of old shoes. The intentions of the firing squad were good, which is more than can be said of the aim. The couple, unscathed, went into the nearest car, but the conductor and trainmen were less fortunate. A No. 10 tan shoe, much worn in sole but with a perfectly good heavy heel, hit Nolan on the forehead, while another shoe hit Van Arsdale in the solar plexus.

Nolan dropped to the pavement, stunned; Van Arsdale doubled up gasping for breath. Trainmen carried the conductor on to the train, where he was speedily revived. The trainman jumped to his feet, although he was dizzy for a few moments, and was able to give the signal that send the train out on time.

In the concourse the wedding party was disconcerted and the enthusiasm somewhat abated. A rumor went through the station that the L. W. W. had made a raid, and groups of special policemen and station employes gathered.

Explanations and apologies were made and the situation explained. Nolan recovered sufficiently to wave from the car door to the crowd in the concourse. Two hours of hard labor sufficed to remove all mementoes of the call of the party from the station.

OUCH! BACKACHE, RUB LAME BACK

Rub Lumbago, Pain, Stiffness right out with a small trial bottle of St. Jacob's Oil.

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or neuritis has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly and surely. It never disappoints!—Adv.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Saltz is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

STATE OF WASHINGTON BOASTS MOUNTAIN 2 MILES HIGH, AND CIVILIZATION HASN'T SPOLED IT.

Upper picture shows daring mountain climbers scaling the perilous snow banks near the summit of Mt. Baker. Lower is shown a hastily constructed bridge across a turbulent torrent made by felling a tree across the stream.

Glacier, Wash., March 25. About thirty-five miles from here is a mountain without any townsites staked out around it; food or any summer resorts on its slopes. And there is no observatory on top.

But it's a regular mountain, just the same. It is Mt. Baker over two miles high and occasionally an active volcano.

A few years ago the crater spread sulphur over the landscape and there are steam caves and warm spots all around the crater today.

The only inhabitants in its vicinity are trappers, prospectors and an occasional ranger. Old-timers still hunt gold in that section of the Cascades and every now and then make a strike. Not big, but enough to keep them going.

There is considerable dispute as to the quickest way to get to the mountain. From Bellingham, from Glacier and from the nearest railroad are the disputed routes. Each year they have a marathon to settle it. Backers of the "straight east through the forest" trail complete with those who favor taking a train to the nearest railroad station and starting on foot from there. The point is still to be settled, for both sides have won.

Once at the mountain there are just as many routes to the top as you like. There is no doubt, however, as to which is the most difficult. This one leads up the northeast slope.

But there is only one way to get up any of these routes. That is, cut your own trail and climb.

There are many glaciers and snow fields to cross near the summit, which must be treated with respect. Quite a few adventurous folks are planted there already.

Lots of people have climbed Mt. Baker, both men and women.

But they haven't spoiled Baker yet by civilization.

GIRL OF 11 QUITS CHILDHOOD JOYS

Has Given Up Much in Order to Become a Noted Prima Donna.

TRANING IS BEGUN

Los Angeles, March 25. Some of the things that little Helen Bishop must do and must not do in order to become a rival of Tetrazzini:

HELEN BISHOP.

She must not eat pickles, or tarts, or cream puffs, or anything sweet that little girls like.

She must stand on her toes and do a lot of breathing exercises every morning at 7:30.

She must do lots of gymnastics.

And she must live in a musical atmosphere that will pervade and permeate her whole being.

In order to develop not only the voice, but the body, soul, character, temperament and mentality of little Helen Bishop, the 11-year old musical prodigy, Thor Raje, musician and vocal instructor, is to be given full legal control over the child, if the court grants the request filed by the parents.

With the crown of the famous prima donnas of the past and present already hovering over her youthful brow, the child is to give up her entire life and childhood to training to become the future queen of song.

Thor Raje believes this is the only way to make a singer perfect. She will live in the atmosphere of music and musicians and will be taught to forget that there is anything in the world but music.

CAN YOU DO BETTER?

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a medicine with an established reputation and that is widely esteemed for its excellence. Can you do better than to keep it in your home? Mrs. L. R. Filler, Vandegrift, Pa., says of it, "I always keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and I consider it unequaled for children or adults. I gave it to my son Boyd for croup and whooping cough and have used it myself for bronchitis. The results have always been highly pleasing." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

HIS ROMANCE GOES TO SMASH

Chicago Millionaire to Be Sued for Divorce by Young Wife.

IT IS ALL ARRANGED

Pasadena, Cal., March 25. Another rich man's romance has just gone to smash! Ralph T. Crane, Chicago millionaire, will be sued for divorce by his pretty 19-year-old wife.

Mrs. Ralph T. Crane in the costume in which she attended the Pasadena millionaires' "hardtimes ball."

"Lack of congeniality" wrecked their ship of domestic bliss.

To protect the family of her husband from notoriety, Mrs. Crane has steadfastly refused to file any charges against him in her complaint.

"We have an arrangement satisfactory to all," she said, "and as soon as I have established a legal residence here I will file a suit. My husband's family is not to blame for this trouble. Although I do not expect to see my husband again there will be nothing unpleasant."

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment that's all, you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, March 25.—Wheat eased off today, influenced by cables being indifferent and by more favorable weather northwest. Relief had come for districts threatened with drought and there was promise of additional moisture. Opening prices varied from the same as last night to ⅛@¼c lower, and a slight further dip ensued, but then the market reacted.

The close, however, was steady at the same as last night to ⅝c off.

In corn the majority of traders seemed disposed to press the selling side. The market opened ⅜@¾c off and rallied only in a half hearted way.

The close was steady at a net decline of ⅝c to ⅞c.

Oats sagged with other grains. Trade was of a scattering character.

Provisions showed sympathy with the weakness of cereals. First sales were unchanged to 2½c lower and an additional decline followed.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 25.—The corn products stocks continued today the rapid decline which set in after the annual meeting yesterday. The preferred fell four points to sixty, a loss of about 10 points to 75. Bethlehem steel fell one point. Changes otherwise were small, with a majority of slight gains.

Stocks sagged slowly today after making slight gains at the outset. The turn in the market was influenced by the spread of liquidation in the industrial shares. Pressure was applied steadily to the steel stocks because of unfavorable reports of conditions in the steel trade. Poor railroad reports for February and the reduction in dividends on Pittsburg, C., C. & St. Louis had an adverse influence on railroad stocks. Pittsburg, C., C. & St. Louis lost three points, and Pennsylvania, which controls that road, fell more than a point. Corn products issues met with support after their early slump and the preferred recovered 3½ points. Bonds were heavy.

The market closed heavy. Prices wavered and fell back again, following the dismal comments by trade papers of conditions in the steel industry.

DAILY MARKET LETTER.

(Furnished by J. S. Phillips, North American Building, Fort Wayne, Ind.)

Chicago, March 25.—Heavy sales of corn futures by recent leaders and dry weather complaints from southwest were main features. Chicago sold 140,000 bushels cash corn, which is the largest total in some time. New York bought more Argentine corn and reported prices down 1c, with the market heavy and probably lower. Southwestern corn demand quieted down. Primary wheat and corn movement still liberal. Cash corn prices at various centers were about unchanged. Broomhall is quite friendly to corn, describing big consumption of corn abroad and Argentine offers of new corn not large. This view does not agree with New York ideas. Broomhall says foreigners are still buying wheat heavily in Russia, but will have to increase their demand in America later in the season. Kansas City corn declined 1c late in the day and much corn unsold. Securities were affected by resignation of English war secretary and cut in the dividend on Panhandle.

Closing prices as follows: Smelter, 69¾; Copper, 76½; Atchison, 97½; B. & O., 90⅝; B. R. T., 92½; C. & O., 53½; Canadian Pacific, 207⅜; Erie, 29⅝; Peoples Gas, 123½; Great Northern, 127⅜; Illinois Central, 111½; Int. & N., 13⅝; Missouri Pacific, 24⅝; Northern Pacific, 114¾; Norfolk, 102⅜; New York Central, 90½; Pennsylvania, 111; P. R. S., 44; Reading, 165⅜; Southern Railway, 25⅞; St. Paul, 100¾; Southern Pacific, 95¼; New Haven, 65½; Union Pacific, 159⅛; U. S. Steel, 64.

state and made surprising gains in territory which six years ago was carried by Senator Crawford.

The democratic slate as agreed upon at a party conference was nominated without contests, E. S. Johnson, Yankton, being the candidate for senator.

BADING AND SEIDEL WIN.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—Mayor Gerhard A. Bading, non-partisan, and Emil Seidel, socialist, were nominated for mayor at yesterday's primary, according to complete returns today. They will figure in the municipal election on April 7.

Seidel led the field with 21,054 votes against 20,022 for Bading. Former Mayor David S. Rose ran third with 17,511 and Theobald Otjen last with 2,875. All but Seidel were on the non-partisan ticket.

Indications are that the socialist nominated six aldermen at large. Yesterday's primary was the first non-partisan contest ever held in Milwaukee.

APOLOGIES FAIL TO SAVE QUARTET

The four men were cited on the contempt charge as the result of an alleged raid Saturday afternoon when the city officials, with a number of policeman, entered the office of Special Prosecuting Attorney Chalmers Hamill for the alleged purpose of getting possession of registration books and supplies which were to be used by the state in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts for alleged election conspiracy, now under way.

Arguments were heard in the contempt case yesterday afternoon and taken under advisement until this morning. The defense was that no effort was made to seize the evidence, but that the visit to the office was made merely to ascertain positively that certain poll books were in the possession of the prosecutor as had been reported.

State Accepts Jury.

At noon today the state in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts, charged with conspiracy to corrupt elections, accepted the jury as it stood, after three men had been peremptorily challenged and their places filled. In the filling of the vacant seats, however, eight men were dismissed for cause, two by the defense and six by attorneys of the state. Further questioning of the tentative jurymen was to be held by the defense this afternoon, and it was not at all certain that the jury finally would be completed today.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The western storm has moved rapidly northeastward and is central over Duluth this morning. It has been preceded by much warmer weather throughout the central states and has given quite general rains over the middle and upper Mississippi valley. The storm is being followed by much colder weather in the northwest, the temperatures being but slightly above zero over Montana this morning, while over the British northwest they are slightly below zero. Heavy snow is reported from Minch of Montana, the Dakotas and the British northwest.

Over the eastern and southern states fair weather has continued. While somewhat warmer weather is reported from the southern states, low temperatures continue over New England.

Cloudy weather will prevail in this section tonight and Thursday, with probably rain. It will continue warm tonight without any freezing temperature, but Thursday will be somewhat colder.

WED ON EMPRESS STAGE.

Nuptial Event of Miss Cantwell and Walter Kimmel Largely Attended.

The wedding of Vera Cantwell and Walter Kimmel, united Tuesday evening by Justice of the Peace Nierman, was in all probability the most largely attended wedding ever held in Fort Wayne. The couple was launched on the sea of matrimony on the stage of the Empress theater and as the final vows had been pledged the bride kissed the groom and the groom kissed the bride and the audience applauded.

Two small members of the troupe known as "Kincaid Kilties," acted as flower girls and the wedding pair marched down the aisle of the theater from the back of the house. As the orchestra played "Here Comes the Bride," the immense audience showed by applause that it had been satisfied.

It all came about as a result of a wager when the bride took a dare made by a friend. It was a regular wedding and the bride and groom conducted themselves as well as could be expected before such a crowd, but the justice exhibited a little nervousness that in a way kept the spectators in a jovial mood during the ceremony. At the close of the second show the newly wedded pair held a reception on the stage of the theater.

Famed Pathfinder of Air Risks Life on 500-Mile Flight to See Parents.

Mrs. Christofferson greeting her son at the end of his record-breaking flight from San Francisco to San Diego.

San Diego, Cal., March 25.—"Gee, it's good to see Ma and Pa again!"

Those were the first words of Silas Christofferson, famous pathfinder of the air, as he kissed his mother and wrung his father's hand upon alighting from the high-powered aeroplane that had brought him over the great Tehachapi Pass (never before surmounted by air craft) at the end of his recent 500-mile flight from San Francisco to San Diego, during which he broke the United States long distance record.

And "Ma" and "Pa" felt the same way about it and echoed the famous aviator's sentiment with, "well, it's mighty good to see you, son."

The parents of "Si" Christofferson were highly elated over his achievement, not because he had broken a long-distance flying record, not because he had traveled by air for the first time from San Francisco to San Diego, not because he had surmounted the invincible Tehachapi in the teeth of a gale at an altitude of 9,000 feet, but because he had flown 500 miles at the imminent risk of his life to see his mother and father.

San Diego is Christofferson's home. His folks live on a ranch near the city and it was to visit them that he came in his aeroplane.

Never in the annals of aviation has there been a more remarkable feat accomplished. Christofferson was balked by Tehachapi for nearly a week. This mountain range, rugged and storm-swept, present barrier 4,000 feet high. The air above was intensely cold and so rarefied that the daring aviator could not rise with his low-power motor, to a sufficient height to surmount it. Undaunted, he stored his machine at Bakersfield and returned to San Francisco on the train for a more powerful engine.

A week later with a 100-horsepower motor installed in his biplane he took another try at the Tehachapi barrier and after two trips sailed over it at an altitude of 9,000 feet and on into Los Angeles, where he stayed all night. The next day he flew to San Diego.

Christofferson made the flight in a machine of his own design.

"I am the proudest, happiest mother in the world," said Mrs. Christofferson. "And I am mighty proud of our son," said the father.

"It was a mighty hard trip," explained the aviator. "But I simply had to make it because Ma and Pa were waiting for me at this end."

PENCIL SKETCH IS PARDON PLEA

Frank Trombley, Convict of 68 Sends Drawing to Board.

WOMAN IN APPEAL

Indianapolis, March 25.—Mrs. Antoinette D. Leach, lawyer, political orator and social worker, appealed to the state board of pardons yesterday for the parole of Frank Trombley, 68 years old, who says that the only friend he had in the world when he entered the state prison nine years ago to begin serving a life sentence for murder was his "little black dog." Mrs. Leach's home is at Sullivan, Ind., near which Trombley's crime was committed. She is the only woman lawyer who ever appeared before the board.

"I have been practicing law for twenty-one years, so you see I am of age," said Mrs. Leach, smilingly. This, however, was the only enlightenment she threw upon her age.

A feature of the hearing was the filing with the board of a pencil sketch drawn by Trombley in his prison cell and picturing the shooting which resulted in the death of a man named Ingram. Trombley was a pearl fisherman and lived in a houseboat on the Wabash river. His boat was at Sullivan when the murder was committed. Both Trombley and Ingram are said to have been under the influence of liquor.

Pictures Version of Shooting.

Trombley said that he went to the door of his houseboat one night when he was about to be attacked by Ingram and fired a shot from his rifle. Ingram, he says, had a revolver in his hand and was in the act of shooting when he fell mortally wounded. Trombley's sketch pictures the houseboat on the river and shows him at the door with rifle raised to his shoulder and Ingram on the river bank with drawn pistol. Trombley's dog, his only faithful friend, is pictured tugging at a rope tied to the end of the houseboat next to the landing.

"From the best information I can get it was a case of both men being drunk and attempting to shoot each other," said Mrs. Leach. "It so happened that Trombley fired first, thus saving his own life, but landing in prison. In the name of mercy I ask that this old man—a veteran of the civil war—be released that he may spend his declining days outside of prison."

Regrets Parting With Dog.

Trombley told Mrs. Leach, when she visited him at the state prison last December, that his greatest regret in being sent to prison was that it meant his separation from his dog—his one faithful friend. He expressed concern about his dog's fate since his imprisonment.

Trombley was once a physical giant and, as a citizen of Terre Haute, he was known as a prizefighter. With the advance of age he became a pearl fisherman and lived on the river most of the time.

Intercedes for Finlander.

Charles E. Pittinger, a township trustee at Muncie, interceded in behalf of Joe Hakela, a Finlander, who is serving a sentence of from two to twenty-one years for the killing of William Evans. Hakela and Evans had a dispute concerning payment for some beer. Hakela drew his revolver and fired after he had been struck on the head with stones thrown by Evans and his companions. The prisoner will complete his minimum term in July. Mr. Pittinger appealed to the board for Hakela's release because of his wife and three children, one of which was born after his commitment to prison. The family, he said, is destitute and dependent wholly on the township for support. The superintendent of the Indiana Wire mill, where Hakela formerly was employed, has offered to restore him to his old place if he is paroled. The prosecuting attorney has recommended clemency.

Fred March, 71 years old, of Plymouth, asked for the parole of his son, Jesse March, who was returned to the Indiana reformatory after he had violated his parole from the institution. March was alleged to have robbed his brother.

Tells of Parole Guarantee.

L. Ert Slack, former state senator, presented a petition for the parole of Walter Chandler, who was sent to prison from Johnson county for assault and battery with intent to kill. Chandler's mother told the board that a lawyer at Franklin had told her that Mr. Slack had "fallen down" and that he proposed that she employ him for a fee of $100.

"He offered to give me a written guarantee that he could get my boy out of prison," said Mrs. Chandler. "He proposed that I give him $25 on the day of the hearing and a mortgage on my home for $75, the money to be paid in seven months. I told him that Mr. Slack was doing every honorable thing that he could and that he was not expecting any such fee."

In answer to questions from the board members, Mrs. Chandler said that the lawyer did not offer to explain how he would meet with more success than any other lawyer in obtaining her son's parole. The rules of the board do not require that lawyers be engaged to present petitions.

Whitley County News.

Columbia City, Ind., March 25.—Twelve candidates were initiated into the Loyal Order of Moose in this city Monday evening, six of them being from Churubusco.

Through their attorney, W. F. McNagny, the citizens and business men of Larwill, eight miles west, are petitioning for the use of electric current from the city power plant. In this way, all the current now going to waste at the plant would be utilized to a profit.

J. H. Grisamer, of Fort Wayne, spent Monday evening in this city, transacting business and visiting friends.

Major Joseph R. Harrison, of the Third regiment, state guard, inspected the Boy Scouts Monday evening, taking the place of Scoutmaster J. E. Wetzel, who was called away by a telegram. The forty scouts showed the results of a careful drilling and evoked much praise from the major.

Mrs. Jack Peabody entertained the Sewing club Monday night and cards and refreshments were the pastime of the evening.

Henry Strauss, of Fort Wayne, spent Tuesday in this city with his daughter, Mrs. Luther Mertz. Although he has been quite sick all winter, Mrs. Strauss feels much better now and is picking up flesh rapidly.

Charles Hoose, of Montpelier, Ohio, arrived here Monday evening to spend a few days with his brother, Will Hoose and family, and his sister, Mrs. Ben Mosher and family.

William Shroufe was given the first degree work in the Modern Woodmen order Monday night.

Ex-Trustee William A. Hauptmeyer, of Washington township, is confined to his home with complications, and is in a serious condition.

Peter V. Gruesbeck, who has been confined to his home nearly the whole winter from lagrippe, was able to be out of doors for the first time Tuesday, and although quite thin, feels fine.

William Grund arrived home Tuesday from Montpelier, Ohio, where he attended the funeral of his wife's mother, Mrs. W. T. Allen. His wife will arrive home Thursday, remaining over for a short visit.

Mrs. Grover C. Dowell, of Detroit, who spent a month with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Dowell, of east of the city, left Tuesday for her home.

Miss Valerie Dohner, of North Manchester, spent Tuesday in this city with friends.

Mrs. John McGuire, of Chicago, arrived here Monday to visit a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Swigart.

All three of the lakes at the Tri-lake resort, Round, Shriner and Cedar, are still covered with ice that does not seem to disappear from the effects of the last two days' sun's rays.

A supposed mad dog was shot at Peabody Monday, the head severed and sent to the state analytical board for analysis, to determine whether or not hydrophobia had infected the animal. The canine ran around in a strange manner and had bitten several horses and cows on the John Stallsmith farm, before it was shot.

Edgar L. Wynkoop, who has been at the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne recuperating from an operation for gall stones, will be discharged from that institution Thursday.

Edward Schell, of Fort Wayne, spent Tuesday in this city, visiting friends and transacting business.

Jacob Slessman, probably the oldest settler in this city, suffered a stroke of paralysis Tuesday morning that may prove fatal. He is past eighty-six years of age and has been slowly declining for several weeks.

William E. Meyers, Herman Schaper and Danny Haines spent Tuesday at Crooked lake in an earnest endeavor to land a catch of the finny tribe.

William Luecke, of Washington township, is recovering from a badly sprained ankle that was caused by a fall from a haymow three weeks ago.

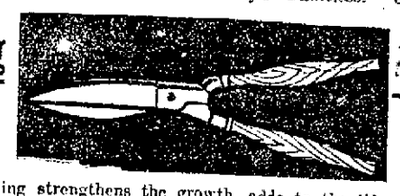
Rurode's

Spray Early

Seavey's "Faultless" Sprayer

Spraying is no longer an experiment but a necessity to insure good fruit, luxuriant tree and shrubbery foliage, etc. It is of such importance that some states have passed compulsory laws. The only law in Indiana is good judgment. The same law applies in selecting your sprayer. Get Seavey's "Faultless." 50c and $1.00.

Pruning Shears



Pruning Knives

Good pruning strengthens the growth, adds to the life and improves the appearance of trees, shrubs and vines. It must be done early and persistently. We have a great variety of pruning shears and knives and the knowledge of how to use them. The knowledge is yours for the asking; the implements at a wide range of prices you feel like paying.
